Fast Hand:

Early Development of Sound Processing in the Service of Speech and Music Perception István Winkler, Judit Gervain, Marcela Pena, Laurel J. Trainor, Teija Kujala, 2024-08-23 Infants have astonishingly sophisticated abilities to process speech and music. It is as if many of the higher order capabilities such as regularity detection, auditory stream segregation, statistical learning, and rhythm processing are already present at birth or develop quite early during infancy, while some simple abilities such as feature discrimination show a much longer developmental trajectory. These higher order abilities also provide the basis of further cognitive, emotional, and social development as they form the basis for communicating and thus learning from caretakers and peers. Therefore, understanding the underlying processes is a prime goal of developmental psychology and neuroscience, and it is also essential for creating early interventions for atypically developing infants, such as designing training protocols for infants at risk of auditory developmental deficits.

Mathematical Puzzles Peter Winkler, 2024-06-21 Research in mathematics is much more than solving puzzles, but most people will agree that solving puzzles is not just fun; it helps focus the mind and increases one's armory of techniques for doing mathematics. Mathematical Puzzles makes this connection explicit by isolating important mathematical methods, then using them to solve puzzles and prove a theorem. This Revised Edition has been thoroughly edited to correct errors and provide clarifications and includes some totally different solutions, modified puzzles, and one entirely new puzzle. Features: A collection of the world's best mathematical puzzles. Each chapter features a technique for solving mathematical puzzles, examples, and finally a genuine theorem of mathematics that features that technique in its proof. Puzzles that are entertaining, mystifying, paradoxical, and satisfying; they are not just exercises or contest problems.

Wireless Information Networks Jack M. Holtzman, 2012-12-06 In April 1995 WINLAB, the Wireless Information Network Laboratory at Rutgers University, hosted the Fifth WINLAB Workshop on Third Generation Wireless Information Networks. This workshop brings together a select group of experts interested in the future of Personal Communications, Mobile Computing, and other services supported by wireless communications. As a sequel to Kluwer books on previous WINLAB workshops, this volume assembles written versions of presentations from the Fifth Workshop. The last few years have been exciting for the field of wireless communications. The second generation systems that have absorbed our attention during those years are becoming commercial realities. Everyone is looking forward to PCS, especially in light of the recent auctions. We see an explosion of technical alternatives for meeting the demand for wireless communications. We also have applications in search of the best technologies rather than the reverse. The papers included provide new insights into many of the issues needing resolution for the successful introduction of the new services by the end of the decade. The authors represent views from both industry and universities from a number of nations. They are grouped into four main categories: Architecture, Radio Resource Management, Access, and Mobile Data.

Mobile Networks Interlimb Coordination Stephan P. Swinnen, Jean Massion, Herbert Heuer, P. Casaer, 2013-10-22 This comprehensive edited treatise discusses the neurological physiological and cognitive aspects of interlimb coordination It is unique in promoting a multidisciplinary perspective through introductory chapter contributions from experts in the neurosciences experimental and developmental psychology and kinesiology Beginning with chapters defining the neural basis of interlimb coordination in animals the book progresses toward an understanding of human locomotor control and coordination and the underlying brain structures and nerves that make such control possible Section two focuses on the dynamics of interlimb coordination and the physics of movement The final section presents information on how practice and experience affect coordination including general skill acquisition learning to walk and the process involved in rhythmic tapping
