Fighter Operations:

Lion in the Sky Jerry Scutts,1987      Fighter Operations in Europe and North Africa, 1939-1945 David Wragg,2012-02-29 Fighter Operations in Europe and North Africa 1939 1945 tells the story of Allied and German fighter pilots in Europe over the Mediterranean and in North Africa during the Second World War The book starts with the early skirmishes as each side tested the others defenses moves through the Battle of Britain and then the Blitz when the emphasis switched from single engined day fighters to twin engined night fighters while increasingly fighters were used to sweep over enemy air fields and lines of communication in occupied France This overlapped with the need to provide air cover for the besieged island fortress of Malta by day and by night as well as defensive operations against Axis forces in Crete and North Africa but as the balance of power changed in North Africa the Desert Air Force was formed incorporating elements from many Allied air forces and the emphasis moved to offensive operations in support of ground forces The invasions of Italy and the South of France also called for fighter cover initially by carrier based aircraft The lessons learnt in North Africa were put to good use by the 2nd Allied Tactical Air Force which accompanied the advancing allied armies towards and eventually into Germany achieving all important air supremacy which was a major factor in the Allied victory The book also covers Luftwaffe fighter pilots as they sought to stop the RAF by night and the USAAF by day against increasingly overwhelming odds

Fighter Command, 1936-1968 Ken Delve,2007-08-16 This is a comprehensive reference to the structure operation aircraft and men of Fighter Command from its formation in 1936 to 1968 when it became part of Strike Command It includes descriptions of many notable defensive and offensive campaigns the many types of aircraft used weapons and airfields The main sections of the book include a general historical introduction and overview operations operational groups aircrew training and technical details of each aircraft type Lengthy Annexes cover personnel the squadrons in World War II orders of battle for each wartime year maps of airfield locations and numbers of enemy aircraft downed      Fighter Operations Jerry Scutts,1992 Fighter planes have always had a glamorous image but this book tells the real story chronicling their role worldwide over nearly 80 years as part of fighting units A range of different fighter operations are analyzed including campaigns in World War I Korea Vietnam and the Falkland Islands      Air Force Magazine ,2013      Air combat fighter programs United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Government Operations. Select Committee of Inquiry into Operations of the United States Air Services,1925      The Luftwaffe James S. Corum,1997 This study provides an appraisal of Germany s air forces from the post World War I era through the early stages of World War II The author demolishes several myths surrounding the Luftwaffe including the belief that they had no ideas beyond the support of ground forces      USAAF Fighter Operations in the Southwest Pacific Charles L. Naval and Shipping Annual ,1944      Fighter Command's Air War 1941 Norman Franks,2016 A lively and informative history of Fighter Command focussing on the Air War of 1941 one of the most important years of modern military history The book covers 100 Circus operations and their accompanying fighter Sweeps in depth Tactics are examined and events analysed in detail in an effort to provide as full and comprehensive an a      Fighter Commands Air War, 1941 Norman Franks,2016-10-14 An extensive history of the Royal Air Force s Circus offensive against Nazi Germany in World War II by the author of Jasta Boelcke Following the Battle of Britain the RAF started taking the air war to the Germans A small number of bombers escorted by large numbers of fighters tried to force the Luftwaffe into battle Much air combat ensued but it was not until Germany invaded Russia in June 1941 that operations were stepped up in an effort to take pressure off Stalin s Russian Front Two major German fighter groups JG26 and JG2 were however more than able to contain the RAF s operations generally only intercepting when conditions were in their favor As author Norman Franks describes over claiming combat victories by pilots of both sides is amazing and several of the top aces had inflated scores Fighter Command however lost massively even though they believed they were inflicting equal if not better losses on the Luftwaffe This battle of attrition was virtually a reverse of the 1940 battles over England and pilots who had to bail out over France were lost completely The book covers the 100 Circus operations and their accompanying fighter sweeps in detail while also mentioning lesser operations where the RAF were concerned The tactics employed by both sides are examined and show how each fighter force quickly adapted to changing conditions tempered by experiences gained in air combat      Flak Edward B. Westermann,2001 Air raid sirens wail searchlight beams flash across the sky and the night is aflame with tracer fire and aerial explosions as Allied bombers and German anti aircraft units duel in the thundering darkness Such cinematic scenes played out with increasing frequency as World War II ground to a close were more than mere stock material for movie melodramas As Edward Westermann reveals they point to a key but largely unappreciated aspect of the German war effort that has yet to get its full due Long the neglected stepchild in studies of World War II air campaigns German flak or anti aircraft units have been frequently dismissed by American British and German historians and by veterans of the European air war as ineffective weapons that wasted valuable materiel and personnel resources desperately needed elsewhere by the Third Reich Westermann emphatically disagrees with that view and makes a convincing case for the significant contributions made by the entire range of German anti aircraft defenses During the Allied air campaigns against the Third Reich well over a million tons of bombs were dropped upon the German homeland killing nearly 300 000 civilians wounding another 780 000 and destroying more than 3 500 000 industrial and residential structures Not surprisingly that aerial Armageddon has inspired countless studies of both the victorious Allied bombing offensive and the ultimately doomed Luftwaffe defense of its own skies By contrast flak units have virtually been ignored despite the fact that they employed more than a million men and women were responsible for more than half of all Allied aircraft losses forced Allied bombers to fly far abovehigh accuracy altitudes and thus allowed Germany to hold out far longer than it might have otherwise Westermann's definitive study sheds new light on every facet of the development and organization of this vital defense arm including Closing with the Enemy Michael Dale Doubler, 1994 This study picks up where D Day leaves off From Normandy through the breakout in France to the German Army's last gasp in the Battle of the Bulge Michael Doubler deals with the deadly business of war closing with the enemy fighting and winning battles taking and holding territory His study provides a reassessment of how American GIs accomplished these dangerous and costly tasks Attack of the Airacobras Dmitrii Fedorovich Loza, 2002 Focusing on the combat operations and daily life of one unit the 9th Guards Fighter Division Loza refutes the myth that the P 39 was used mainly as a tank buster or flying artillery Instead its primary mission was to protect Red Army operations from aerial attacks by the enemy So despite the occasional strafing of trains truck convoys and troops most P 39 operations involved attacks on Luftwaffe bombers and dogfights with their fighter escorts BOOK JACKET The Western Fire Fighter's Manual Western Forestry and Conservation Association, 1924 Fighter Combat Tactics in the Southwest Pacific Area Ray Merriam, 2012-02-11 Merriam Press Military Monograph 400 Ninth Edition February 2012 The text in this monograph is from a booklet prepared during the war by the Fifth Air Force It was written by the combat pilots of the Southwest Pacific area who managed to fight and survive the best aircraft and pilots that the Japanese Army and Navy Air Forces could throw at them Their comments were intended to aid the newer pilots just arriving on the scene so that they would not have to learn from experience and perhaps save their lives Twenty five fighter pilots including William Giroux Edwin Doss Leroy Grosshuesch Gerald Johnson Richard Bong Robert De Haven Edward Roddy Charles MacDonald and Thomas McGuire provide their rules for dealing with the Japanese in the air and on the ground Contents Colonel Earl H Dunham Commanding Officer 8th Fighter Group P 38 Captain William K Giroux 36th Fighter Squadron 8th Fighter Group P 38 Captain William A Gardner Operations Officer 8th Fighter Group P 38 Major Cyril F Homer 80th Fighter Squadron 8th Fighter Group P 38 Captain Allen E Hill 36th Fighter Squadron 8th Fighter Group P 38 Colonel Edwin A Doss Commanding Officer 35th Fighter Group P 47 Major John R Young Operations Officer 35th Fighter Group P 47 Captain Leroy V Grosshuesch 39th Fighter Squadron 35th Fighter Group P 47 Captain William H Strand 40th Fighter Squadron 35th Fighter Group P 47 Major Douglas V N Parsons Deputy Commander 35th Fighter Group P 47 Lieutenant Colonel Gerald R Johnson Commanding Officer 49th Fighter Group P 38 Colonel George A Walker former Commanding Officer 49th Fighter Group P 38 Major Richard I Bong 49th Fighter Group P 38 Captain Robert M De Haven 7th Fighter Squadron 49th Fighter Group P 40 P 38 Major Wallace R Jordan 9th Fighter Squadron 49th Fighter Group P 38 Colonel Gwen G Atkinson Commanding Officer 58th Fighter Group P 47 Major Edward F Roddy Operations Officer 58th Fighter Group P 47 Colonel Robert R Rowland Commanding Officer 348th Fighter Group P 47 Lieutenant Colonel William M Banks Deputy Commander 348th Fighter Group P 47 Captain Marvin E Grant 342nd Fighter Squadron 348th Fighter Group P 47 Major William D Dunham 460th Fighter Squadron 348th Fighter
