Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. After "trial and error" (many small attempts) using models, using evidence, and using logic, solutions can have a scientific impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions requires considering various conditions, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Sometimes, important parts of a solution might be overlooked. However, not all important parts have a scientific impact. For example, creating a solution for a water filter that only affects its cost and ease of use, cannot influence the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what conditions affected it, and any compromises (trade-offs) that have been made are always involved in the idea. Communication, using logic, safety, and following the results of the scientific process are important steps. The process of testing, sharing, and evaluating locally encourages responsible decision-making and helps communities thrive.

01. Mark the best answer for each question.

1. What is the first important step when working on how to solve a local problem?
 - a. Following a well-known method
 - b. Using the most expensive materials
 - c. Spreading safety concerns
 - d. Understanding the problem fully
2. What does determining conditions in a solution help with?
 - a. Finding the conditions of the solution
 - b. Evaluating the conditions of the solution and safety
 - c. Showing how to solve the problem
 - d. Determining that the solution has no risks
3. Which is an example of a trade-off?
 - a. Finding a solution with no risks
 - b. Finding a solution with no risks
 - c. Finding a solution with no risks
 - d. Using unsafe materials
4. Why is compromise important?
 - a. To avoid not being in a consensus
 - b. To make ideas stronger
 - c. To finish the problem by comparing
 - d. To avoid choosing a trade-off

02. Mark if the statement is True (T) or False (F).

1. A solution made after one failed attempt is always better than the first attempt. ()

Answer for each question.

1. How is a problem fully defined when designing a solution?

2. Why must this be considered in designing a solution?

3. What might happen when creating a water filter?

4. How might science solutions be implemented?

5. Why are trade-offs essential in scientific understanding?
