Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. Often "fixed" with a local issue such as water quality or waste management, using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions begins by considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members from a certain region face challenges, problems, and the impact of their lives made with difficulty. For example, creating resources for a water filter may affect its cost and ease of use, which influenced the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been and possibly involve on the way. Communication, using design models, and reflecting on the results of the scientific solution are important steps. This process can help identify future needs, locally encourages responsible decision-making, and helps communities thrive.

01. Mark the best answer for each question.

1. What is the first important step when working science to solve a local problem?
 - a. Designing a local experiment
 - b. Spreading the most expensive materials
 - c. Ignoring safety concerns
 - d. Understanding the problem fully
2. What does determining constraints in a solution help with?
 - a. Finding the problems of the solution
 - b. Establishing a budget, time, and safety
 - c. Showing how to avoid
 - d. Determining what the solution has to solve
3. Which is an example of a constraint?
 - a. Finding a solution with no cost
 - b. Working without any tools
 - c. The time and money to finish the project
 - d. Using unlimited materials
4. Why is communication important?
 - a. To avoid not being in agreement
 - b. To make ideas shared
 - c. To finish the problem by comparing
 - d. To avoid discussing the work

02. Mark if the statement is True (T) or False (F).

Identifying a solution helps in the scientific process by providing evidence from using the idea.

Answer for each question.

Identifying a solution helps in the scientific process?

Why must this be considered in designing a solution?

What might happen when creating a water filter?

How might science solutions be implemented?

Why are safety concerns important in scientific understanding?
