Flipping Point Barry R Norman,2016-11-10 Flipping Point is a stream of consciousness look into the mind of the author as he tries to understand the roots of his lifelong battle with depression and suicidal thoughts It flows through several events relationships and offhand thoughts some humorous others heartbreaking as he seeks answers to the ultimate existential questions It began on his 59th birthday as a movie theater owner whose only family is his 15 year old diabetic blind dog with an offhand typing spree at the computer keyboard One story begat the next until he went back and forth within his own timeline sussing out the specific events and occurrences that dotted his life leading to where he is at that very moment of typing As we all struggle with the ultimate question how did I get here Flipping Point could be more than just a singular autobiography but an iconic look into all of our souls to find both the humor and pathos of our individual lives

The New American Cinema Jon Lewis,1998 Deliberately eclectic and panoramic THE NEW AMERICAN CINEMA brings together thirteen leading film scholars who present a range of theoretical critical and historical perspectives on a rich and pivotal time in American cinema that from the mid 1960s to the present With its range of topics and breadth of critical approaches this anthology illuminates the volatile mix of industrial process and artistic inspiration that comprises American moviemaking 46 photos
