An essay on the emergence of the Fauve landscape is followed by four essays devoted to individual sites and such topics as Fauvism's impact on tourism and politics. Another essay concentrates on the critical landscape in essence the critics' reception of these paintings. Matisse, Braque, Derain, Vlaminck, Dufy, Marquet, Manguin and Friesz are represented with examples of their works. Henri Matisse Catherine C. Bock Weiss, 2014-02-25 First published in 1996 The art of the extraordinary French artist Henri Matisse 1869-1954 has provided visual pleasures and intellectual challenges to its viewers for the last hundred years This is collection of gathered summarized and evaluated major literature on the artist primarily from France the United States Germany and the Scandinavian countries where major Matisse collections bear witness to early and intense interest in the artist's work

CATALOGUE OF WORKS ON CIVIL AND ECCLESIASTICAL ARCHITECTURE, AND LANDSCAPE GARDENING. BERNARD QUARITCH, 1882 Report Great Britain. Standing Commission on Museums and Galleries, 1961 The London Paintings André Derain, Rémi Labrusse, Ernst Vegelin van Claerbergen, 2005 This is a guide to the extraordinary series of paintings of London that Andr Derain produced at the height of his avant garde notoriety Impressionism, an Intimate View Florence E. Coman, 2004 The art of the Impressionists has enduring appeal Exhibitions on impressionism and impressionist artists continue to draw large crowds Yet very little has been published that focuses on the intimate nature of much of impressionist art Presenting over fifty works by major artists such as Bonnard Corot C zanne Degas Van Gogh Matisse Monet Renoir and Toulouse Lautrec and using the Ailsa Mellon Bruce Collection of small French paintings in the National Gallery of Art as its starting point this beautifully illustrated new volume explores two important aspects of

impressionism First it illustrates how artists like Monet Pissarro Degas C zanne Sisley and Renoir sought to capture fleeting everyday moments and objects that made up their own lives and those of the people around them their immediate family friends servants and strangers The scale and subject matter was in stark contrast to the paintings of the official Salon In place of large scale academic or neoclassical subjects the impressionists turned to self portraits flowers in a crystal vase a view of dancers backstage a sister at a window or an interior just after dinner works that were once highly personal and introverted wistful and dreamlike transient and intimate in scale Moreover the author shows how the painting of earlier realist and landscape artists such as Corot Rousseau Boudin and Manet was absorbed into the small scale impressionist works of an emerging generation of aspiring artists that included Monet Renoir Morisot and Pissarro This highlights the second important feature of impressionism its central role within the development of later nineteenth century French and European modern art In an introductory essay and in thematic groupings of works the author shows how when the first impressionist exhibition opened in April 1874 critics were shocked at the small scale unfinished nature of the paintings with their unmixed pigments and broken brush work more akin to oil sketches By the time of the last impressionist exhibition in 1886 the concept of what constituted a finished work had changed Smaller sketchier painting was increasingly admired for its freshness and immediacy of expression and impressionism had given way to a radical reinterpretation by a new generation of artists These included post impressionists such as Seurat Gauguin Van Gogh and C zanne Vuillard and other members of the Nabis inspired by Gauguin and at the outset of the twentieth century Matisse Derain and Duffy known as the fauves wild beasts creators of highly coloured and emphatical brushworked paintings
