Environment And Development Conundrum:

The South and Sustainable Development Conundrum, 2002 Environment and Sustainable Development V.
Rajyalakshmi, 2004 Divided Into 7 Chapters It Presents The Legal And Political Perspectives Of The Concept Of Sustainable Development With Emphasis On North South Dynamics Presents Integrational Developmental And Equity Approaches Necessary For Transition Towards Sustainable Development Environment and Economic Development Basudeb Sahoo, 1996 Papers presented at a national seminar on Orissa s economic development and its environment organized by Asian Workers Development Institute Bhubaneswar in March 1995 Time, Climate Change, Global Racial Capitalism and Decolonial Planetary Ecologies Anna M. Agathangelou, Kyle D. Killian, 2022-06-23 This book probes the interconnections of time and ecology in order to spark our imagination and inspire us to re think the planetary ecology and otherwise It presents debates that interrogate and elucidate the anxieties of the known and the unknown of this world and the planetary beyond sifting through temporal accounts of the Anthropocene human beings and climate change The chapters in this edited volume spur conversations with different thought systems and their underlying assumptions about the composition of structures of time and contingent temporalities The authors engage rising temperatures in the oceans and air the consequences intended and unintended of investments in various forms of development and the potential catastrophe unfolding in real time Recent temporal strategies such as mitigation and adaptation to the climate crisis are challenged as they further compound and commodify the inquiry the understanding and responses to environmental degradations extractions and displacements Anti colonial and decolonial debates about the structures of time the planetary and ecology are crucial contributions of this volume Further privileging the vantage points of the colonized and enslaved the authors of this volume challenge dominant universal cyclical and retrospective structures of time and the planetary Through research poetry art and popular cultural analyses the authors attend to the ways that the struggles of the submerged indigenous and black communities for climate justice become coded as a global warming crisis This volume grapples with how racial climate struggles and unrest become mobilized both as a source of paralysis and as an opportunity for further expropriation and expansion of data accumulation markets for settler planetary projects all in the name of global warming Ultimately the authors in this volume argue that conventional attempts at exploiting the planetary all depend upon ideas of conquest and the mastery and control of ecologies global governance and individual behaviors In this sense fears about the unknown future of our planet miss what is at stake in the structures of time the question of creation and invention The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Globalizations International Water Law and the Quest for Common Security Bjorn-Oliver Magsig, 2015-03-24 The world s freshwater supplies are increasingly threatened by rapidly increasing demand and the impacts of global climate change but current approaches to transboundary water management are unsustainable and may threaten future global stability and international security The absence of law in attempts to address this issue highlights the necessity for further understanding from the legal perspective This book provides a fresh conceptualisation of water security developing an operational methodology for identifying the four core elements of water security which must be addressed by international law availability access adaptability and ambit The analysis of the legal framework of transboundary freshwater management based on this contemporary understanding of water security reveals the challenges and shortcomings of the current legal regime In order to address these shortcomings the present mindset of prevailing rigidity and state centrism is challenged by examining how international legal instruments could be crafted to advance a more flexible and common approach towards transboundary water interaction The concept of considering water security as a matter of regional common concern is introduced to help international law play a more prominent role in addressing the challenges of global water insecurity Ways for implementing such an approach are proposed and analysed by looking at international hydrogeopolitics in Himalayan Asia The book analyses transboundary water interaction as a case study for advancing public international law in order to fulfil its responsibility of promoting international peace and security

Technology, Globalization, and Sustainable Development Nicholas A Ashford, Ralph P Hall, 2018-08-06 Technology Globalization and Sustainable Development offers a unified transdisciplinary approach for transforming the industrial state in order to promote sustainable development The authors present a deep analysis of the ways that industrial states both developed and developing are currently unsustainable and how economic and social welfare are related to the environment to public health and safety and to earning capacity and meaningful and rewarding employment The authors offer multipurpose solutions to the sustainability challenge that integrate industrial development employment technology environment national and international law trade finance and public and worker health and safety The authors present a compelling wake up call that warns of the collision course set between the current paths of continued growth and inevitable unsustainability in the world today Offering clear examples and real solutions this textbook illustrates how the driving forces that are currently promoting unsustainability can be refocused and redesigned to reverse course and improve the state of the world This book is essential reading for those teaching and studying sustainable development and the critical roles of the economy employment and the environment

Environmental Protection, Law and Policy Jane Holder, Maria Lee, 2007-07-19 This 2007 book examines environmental law from a range of perspectives emphasising the policy world from which environmental law is drawn and nourished Those working within the discipline of environmental law need to engage with concepts and methods employed by disciplines other than law The authors analyse the ways in which legal activities are supported and legitimated by work in traditional scientific or technical domains as well as by certain more obscure but also influential cultural or philosophical assumptions A range of regulatory techniques is explored in this book through a close examination of both pollution control and land use The highly complex nature of current environmental problems demanding sophisticated and responsive legal controls is illustrated by several in depth case studies including legal and policy analysis of the highly contested issues of genetically modified organisms and renewable energy projects The Palgrave Handbook of Urban Development Planning in Africa Melekidzedek Khayesi, Francis Nyongesa Wegulo, 2022-11-25 Where can one get a synthesis of research findings on urban development planning in Africa This book addresses this gap in knowledge by distilling existing research to provide insights into theories research designs empirical findings and approaches on urban development planning in Africa Starting with the overall planning culture and strategies the book chapters move on to specific themes such as governance population poverty water recreation transport agriculture air quality and rural urban linkages This book reduces the prevailing risk of unnecessary duplication of research and the inadequate attention that is being given to extending research in new areas This situation has partly been due to existing research remaining scattered in different organizations and publications and has not been subjected to critical synthesis to unearth any new developments that it contains The book makes available research findings to be utilized in current and future urban development planning in Africa The Journal of Environment & Development ,2001 Environment and Development in Southeast Asia ,1993 Finance & Development ,1991 Environmental Ethics Louis P. Pojman, Paul Pojman, 2008 The most comprehensive introduction to environmental ethics available ENVIRONMENTAL ETHICS offers students a current look at the issues and topics that dominate the field today organized into two main parts that take students seamlessly from theory to application This Fifth Edition of the Pojmans popular anthology like its predecessors includes numerous topic areas not covered in other anthologies including an all new section on Climate Change Featuring articles carefully selected for clarity and accessibility the text follows a dialogic pro con format presenting divergent positions on each topic ensuring that students are both exposed to and understand both sides of every topic so they can develop their own informed positions The bulk of royalties for this book are donated to groups dedicated to protecting the environment such as the Wilderness Society and the Sierra Club Sustainable Urban Futures in Africa Michael Addaney, Patrick Cobbinah, 2021-12-30 Sustainable Urban Futures in Africa provides a variety of conventional and emerging theoretical frameworks to inform understandings and responses to critical urban development issues such as urbanisation climate change housing slum informality urban sprawl urban ecosystem services and urban poverty among others within the context of the sustainable development goals SDGs in Africa This book addresses topics including challenges to spatial urban development how spatial planning is delivered how different urbanisation variables influence the development of different forms of urban systems and settlements in Africa how city authorities could use old and new methods of land administration to produce sustainable urban spaces in Africa and the role of local activism in causing important changes in the built environment Chapters are written by a diverse range of African scholars and practitioners in urban planning and policy design environmental science and policy sociology agriculture natural resources management environmental law and politics Urban Africa has huge resource potential both human and natural resources that can stimulate sustainable development when effectively harnessed Sustainable Urban Futures in Africa provides support for the SDGs in urban Africa and will be of interest to students and researchers professionals and policymakers and readers of urban studies spatial planning geography governance and other social sciences Indian Books in Print ,2003 Gender Dynamics in Economic Development of India Kumar Das,2009 The ongoing globalization process has created an atmosphere of excitement for instant economic growth But moving quickly up the economic ladder does not mean much unless it brings social development With gender equality being a concern around the globe new books and literature on women s development have been appearing at a rapid pace In India the feminization of jobs is less meaningful because the widespread commercialization process displaces women The neo patriarchy gradually gets institutionalized at several spheres in work culture customs religion and education A woman is not free to think as an individual Technology and science have remained divisive Even among India s educated class there has not been a decrease in certain sociological values including the preference of giving birth to boys the drop out rate among girl students and dowry and dowry related deaths A meaningful social transformation is needed which gives equal status to women Empowerment of women is not a product but a process to evolve from society itself yet should not to be triggered by outside donors or agencies This book argues for women s development in India It examines the gender implications of the economic development process It highlights the impact of industrialization and economic development on women It analyzes gender equality under the broader framework of human development and it argues that the idea of women s development should be less nebulous and more practical An adequate priority should be given to women s empowerment in order to build a prosperous society Gender Dynamics in Economic Development of India shows that national policies are the key determinants of women s development It incisively focuses on powerful economic and social dynamics This text will benefit planners policy makers and social activists redefining how the policy maker should think about full range of gender issues for building a modern society Trade, Development and the Environment World Trade Organization Secretariat Staff,2000-11-24 In recent years the relationships between trade and the environment and trade and development have become increasingly complex The need to reconcile the competing demands of economic growth economic development and environmental protection has become central to the multilateral trade agenda In this volume various commentators debate the role of the World Trade Organization and other institutions in addressing these challenges The book arises from the papers presented at two High Level Symposia hosted by the World Trade Organization in March 1999 on Trade and the Environment and Trade and Development The first section of the work focuses on the relationship between trade and the environment The issues addressed include the need for WTO members to pursue integrated trade and environmental policies in order to achieve sustainable development ways in which the removal of trade restrictions and distortions can lead to positive environmental and development solutions the relationship between WTO provisions and trade measures contained in environmental agreements and the need for transparency and effective interaction between civil society and the trade community The second section examines the growing importance of developing countries in the global trading system over the last 30 years and the ways in which the inequalities which persist between countries may be addressed The papers include discussion of the need for integration of the least developed countries into the multilateral trading system the ways in which international institutions may work together to realize the objective of development the complex role of trade liberalization in development and the importance of new technologies in accelerating integration between developing and developed countries
