The English Novel Dorothy Van Ghent,1959      The English Novel Dorothy Bendon Van Ghent,1955      The English Novel Dorothy VanGhent,1960      The English Novel: Form and Function. (Third Printing.). Dorothy VAN GHENT,1956      The Humanistic Heritage Daniel R. Schwarz,1986 Stressing that the literary works are written by human authors about human subjects and for human readers Schwarz argues that reading must be understood as a transaction between texts and readers      Form and Functions of American Government Thomas Harrison Reed,1916      The English Novel June Schlueter,1976 This volume one of a series is we believe the most nearly complete bibliography of criticism of the twentieth century British novel yet published Yet in trying to make the volume as definitive as possible we have also had the onerous task of having to keep the volume within manageable limits It is therefore a selective bibliography with citations from 1900 through the end of 1975 Our choices were necessarily arbitrary for reasons of both space and relevance but we believe all in all that we have made an intelligent compilation of secondary criticism of the modern English novel

Remembering the Phallic Mother Marcia Ian,1993 In a reinterpretation of the history of fetishism as a concept Ian traces the significance of the trope of the phallic mother from early psychoanalytic discourse through Klein Kristeva and Lacan across key works of modernist literature by Wilde Eliot Joyce Lawrence Genet and others and in recent feminist theory gender theory and postmodern critical theory Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR      Solved Papers YCT Expert Team , 2023 24 NTA UGC NET JRF English Solved Papers      Ecofeminism and the Indian Novel Sangita Patil,2019-07-08 Ecofeminism and the Indian Novel tests the theories of ecofeminism against the background of India s often different perceptions of environmental problems challenging the hegemony of Western culture in thinking about human problems This book moves beyond a simple application of the concepts of ecofeminism instead explaining the uniqueness of Indian novels as narratives of ecofeminism and how they can contribute to the development of the theory of ecofeminism In examining a selection of novels the author argues that Indian texts conceptualize the ecological crisis more as a human problem than as a gender problem The book proposes that we should think of ecofeminism as ecohumanism instead seeing human beings and nature as a part of a complex web Novels analysed within the text include Kamala Markandaya s Nectar in a Sieve 1954 Shivram Karanth s Return to Earth 2002 and Na D Souza s Dweepa 2013 Ecofeminism and the Indian Novel will be of great interest to students and scholars of ecofeminism ecocriticism ecological feminism environmental humanities gender studies ecological humanities feminist studies and Indian literature      How Government Functions in Indiana Ross Franklin Lockridge,1918      Daniel Defoe and the Representation of Personal Identity Christopher Borsing,2016-08-25 The concept of a personal identity was a contentious issue in the early eighteenth century John Locke s philosophical discussion of personal identity in An Essay Concerning Human Understanding fostered a public debate upon the status of an immortal Christian soul This book argues that Defoe like many of this age had religious difficulties with Locke's empiricist analysis of human identity. In particular, it examines how Defoe explores competitive individualism as a social threat while also demonstrating the literary and psychological fiction of any concept of a separated lone identity. This foreshadows Michel Foucault's assertion that the idea of man is a recent invention, a figure not yet two centuries old, a new wrinkle in our knowledge. The monograph's engagement with Defoe's destabilization of any definition or image of personal identity across a wide range of genres, including satire, political propaganda, history, conduct literature, travel narrative, spiritual autobiography, piracy, and history, economic and scientific literature, rogue biography, scandalous and secret history, dystopian, documentary, science fiction, and apparition narrative, is an important and original contribution to the literary and cultural understanding of the early eighteenth century as it interrogates and challenges modern presumptions of individual identity.

Lexical Input Processing and Vocabulary Learning, Joe Barcroft, 2015-12-15. This book focuses on theory, research, and practice related to lexical input processing (lex IP), an exciting field exploring how learners allocate their limited processing resources when exposed to words and lexical phrases in the input. Unit 1 specifies parameters of lex IP research among other levels of input processing, as well as key components for meaning mapping and contexts: incidental, intentional, and vocabulary learning. Unit 2 highlights theoretical advances such as the type of processing, resource allocation, TOPRA model, consistent with research on tasks: sentence writing, word copying, word retrieval, that learners may perform during vocabulary learning. Unit 3 highlights patterns in partial word form learning and input-based effects, including the value of increased exposure, drawbacks of presenting vocabulary in semantic sets, and advantages of input enhancement, particularly with regard to increasing talker speaking style and speaking rate variability in spoken input. The book unifies a range of research pertinent to lex IP, summarizes theoretical and instructional implications, and proposes intriguing new directions for future research.
