Jeremias Gotthelf

Green Huntsman:

Night and Hope Arnost Lustig,2017-06-28 First published in 1962 Night and Hope is a collection of interrelated short stories by a young Czech writer who was a boy in the Terez n concentration camp near Prague during the war They have already been received with great acclaim abroad and they now make their appearance for the first time in this country They reveal what it was like to live in a sealed town which was in fact a reception station for the gas chambers of Auschwitz A guard thrashes a poor old woman on the counter of her little shop and each are curiously resigned to their roles of giving and receiving degradation Little boys play in the streets and are quietly regretful that they won t grow up and wear fine clothes A guard s wife and her coffee party friends stroll round the ghetto to collect anything that catches their eye a wedding ring pathetic clothes Arno t Lustig s stories are a new and vivid focus on this fearful tragedy as it affected the private individual They are written with restraint yet nothing is glossed and they take their place amongst the very best writing to have come out of the shambles of Hitler s Jewish Question Arno t Lustig has succeeded in putting truth into a poem Nothing in art could mean more than that His style is sober and modern his sentence carries all attributes of that which connects prose with poetry and makes it obvious how slight and unperceivable the borderlines between genres L Askenazy Literarni Noviny Prague Each tale has a genuine unity of its own and is a small work of art in its own right No one reading them could ever feel that they were only stories The Times Literary Supplement London No writer in Europe in the East or in the West has expressed as much truth about the time of the holocaust as Arno t Lustig Maariv Tel Aviv Outstanding stories The Bookman London
