Ethical Know How:

Ethical Know-How Francisco J. Varela,1999 How can science be brought to connect with experience This book addresses two of the most challenging problems facing contemporary neurobiology and cognitive science understanding how we unconsciously execute habitual actions as a result of neurological and cognitive processes and creating an ethic adequate to our present awareness that there is no such thing as a transcendental self a stable subject or a soul Fishers and Scientists in Modern Turkey Ståle Knudsen,2008-12-01 Through the ethnography and history of fish production seafood consumption state modernizing policies and marine science this book analyzes the role of local knowledge in the management of marine resources on the Eastern Black Sea coast of Turkey Fishing science and other ways of knowing and relating to fish and the sea are analyzed as particular ways of life conditioned by history ideology and daily practice The approach adopted here allows for a broader analysis of the role knowledge plays in the management of common pool resources CPR than is provided in much of the contemporary CPR debate that tends to have a somewhat narrow focus on institutions and rules By contrast the author argues that also local knowledge and the larger historical and ideological context of production as manifest in state modernization policies and consumption patterns should be taken into account when trying to explain the current management regime in Turkish Black Sea fisheries Beyond Objectivism and Relativism Richard Bernstein,1983 Drawing freely and expertly from Continental and analytic traditions Richard Bernstein examines a number of debates and controversies exemplified in the works of Gadamer Habermas Rorty and Arendt He argues that a new conversation is emerging about human rationality a new understanding that emphasizes its practical character and has important ramifications both for thought and action Handbook of Research on Teaching Ethics in Business and Management Education Wankel, Charles,Stachowicz-Stanusch, Agata,2011-12-31 This book is an examination of the inattention of business schools to moral education addressing lessons learned from the most recent business corruption scandals and financial crises and also questioning what we re teaching now and what should be considering in educating future business leaders to cope with the challenges of leading with integrity in the global environment Provided by publisher Textual Practice Terence Hawkes,2005-10-26 From films by Greenaway to books by Derrida Textual Practice casts its net beyond literary texts and theory to take a critical look at such diverse disciplines as media history philosophy and gender The Meeting of Aesthetics and Ethics in the Academy Kate MacNeill,Barbara Bolt,2019-09-17 The Meeting of Aesthetics and Ethics in the Academy provides a deep understanding of the nuances of ethics in the creative environment and contributes to the critical exploration of the nature of research ethics in higher education Written by world renown academics with a wealth of experience in this field this volume explores ethical challenges and responses across a range of creative practices and disciplines including design documentary film making journalism socially engaged arts and the visual arts It addresses the complex negotiations that creative practice researchers in higher education undertake to ensure that the ethical compliance required does not undermine the research integrity and artistic aspirations. By presenting carefully considered challenges to accepted models of research, this book illustrates critical analysis through a variety of case studies and anecdotal examples that provide an insight into improved ethics practices and policies in higher education. This book is perfect for academics, ethics administrators, higher degree research candidates, and supervisors looking to engage further in creative practice research and wanting to explore and understand its ethical oversight.

This book is about helping teachers think carefully and knowledgeably about ethics in teaching and to encourage them to talk to other people about it. Each chapter in the body of this text is organized around a pair of basic ethical concepts: freedom and discipline, self and others, communities near and far, excellence and equality, unity and diversity, and faith and truth. Each of these chapters begins with a realistic case which provides a vehicle for readers to see how the concepts come up in concrete situations. Following each chapter case are two essays by two different contributing writers who put themselves in the position of deciding how to approach the case. The idea is for them to model ethical judgment and to give readers a glimpse into how thoughtful people may agree or disagree on the same case. The writers continue to respond to each other's reactions throughout the chapter in order to show how constructive criticism of other people's viewpoints and the ability to provide feedback can help people learn from each other in a civil manner. This book presents a wider range of theoretical perspectives than its competitors while offering actual exchanges of viewpoints between informed educators. The discussion is more philosophically sophisticated and encourages readers to think critically and to incorporate theory into actual judgment. It aims to show the importance as well as the limitations of making judgment a cooperative activity among people. For professionals working in the field of education.
