

Slope stabilisation solutions explained

Gabion Baskets

Gabion baskets are box-shaped wire of galvanised steel mesh filled with rock or concrete. When stacked, they form a wall to stabilise roads constructed on a slope.

Mesh Installation

Constructed from a composite 3D mat structure embedded in a steel wire mesh to provide tensile strength and erosion protection; used in conjunction with soil nails to reinforce slopes.

Soil nails

Soil nails are steel bars grouted into holes drilled into the slope. Up to 12m long, they are used in combination with shotcrete or mesh to stabilise slopes.

Rockfill embankment

Rockfill embankments rebuild and protect damaged slopes, using sized rocks to slow water flow and prevent erosion.

The solutions featured here are for example purposes only and not indicative of the specific design required for the pictured damaged slope. Slope stabilisation solutions are based on geotechnical assessments and the needs of each individual site.
