Exchange And Deception:

Expanding the Economic Concept of Exchange Caroline Gerschlager, 2012-12-06 Exchange is a pervasive concept in everyday life affecting phenomena as diverse as interpersonal relationships and market transactions In addition economists have used the concept in a highly specific and clearly delineated way Against this background Expanding the Economic Concept of Exchange sets out to expand the concept of exchange by crossing the boundaries laid down by economists and by examining the function played by deceptions self deceptions and illusions The main motivation for expanding the concept of exchange was the realization that in the prototypical economic model deception is not taken into account Hence economists traditionally regard deception as some sort of irrationality as a flaw in an otherwise perfectly rational process Authors represented in this volume take a different approach examining deception as a constituent quality of exchange This is shown by the contributions drawing on recent developments in economic theory by those with an anthropological orientation as well as by a contribution referring specifically to Adam Smith An interrogation into deception is long overdue in economics This volume prepares the ground for and makes the first contributions to explicitly acknowledging deceptions self deceptions and illusions as fundamental dimensions allowing us as economists to further research and develop the concept of change A particular and perhaps unexpected focus of this volume lies on anthropology because economics can clearly benefit from integrating selected results on deception from outside its expanding domain It is primarily targeted at economists interested in institutional aspects of exchanges and social theory In addition the topic will find interested readers from anthropology cultural studies science studies philosophy

Exchange and Deception: A Feminist Perspective Caroline Gerschlager, Monika Mokre, 2013-03-09 economic modelling and thought Part three presents two case studies as examples of deceptive autonomy and shows the impact of this deception on the situation of women from the viewpoint of cultural studies and social anthropology Part four relates methodological reflections on feminist and mainstream economics to the theme of the book The first part of this book is devoted to a reconsideration of Adam Smith as a starting point for feminist perspectives on exchange Drawing on Adam Smith s Theory of Moral Sentiments Caroline Gerschlager sets the stage for expanding the economic concept of exchange She analyses and develops Smith s insight that deception is inevitable in the social setting Smith s system of sympathy which Gerschlager analyses as a system of exchange i e exchange is conceived in terms of changing places in the imagination is compared with exchange as conceived by the neoclassical approach Her analysis reveals that these approaches arrive at contrasting results with regard to deception Whereas in the former deception is vital to an understanding of exchange the latter regards deception as an inefficiency hindering exchange and ultimately making it impossible Gerschlager points out that a certain degree of deception is inevitable and that living in society therefore also amounts to deceiving and being deceived

The "cultural Exchange" Deception Myron Coureval Fagan,1959 Emotions in Rituals and Performances Axel Michaels,Christoph Wulf,2020-11-29 Challenging the idea that rituals are static and emotions irrational the volume explores the manifold qualities of emotions in ritual practices Focusing explicitly on the relationship between emotions and rituals it poses two central questions First how and to what extent do emotions shape rituals Second in what way are emotions ritualized in and beyond rituals Strong emotions are generally considered to be more spontaneous and uncontrolled whereas ritual behaviour is regarded as planned formalized and stereotyped and hence less emotional However as the volume demonstrates rituals often reveal strong emotions among participants are motivated by feelings or are intended to generate them The essays discuss the motivation for rituals the healing function of emotions the creation of new emotions through new media the aspect of mimesis in the generation of feelings individual collective and non human emotions the importance of trance and possession staged emotions and emotions on stage emotions in the context of martyrdom emotions in Indian and Western dance traditions emotions of love sorrow fear aggression and devotion Furthermore aesthetic and sensory dimensions as well as emic concepts of emotions in rituals are underscored as relevant in understanding social practice
