Formation in Faith Sondra Higgins Matthaei, 2008-01-01 The ministry of congregations is to make disciples of Jesus Christ Behind that simple and seemingly self evident statement lies a problematic reality however While congregations know that disciple making is at the heart of their identity they often have trouble understanding how to go about it Apart from such traditional Christian education ministries as Sunday school too little formal thinking or planning goes into the task of forming Christians in the faith In this book

Sondra Matthaei casts a vision in which congregations open up their life of faith to others as an invitation to connect the universal longing for authentic relationships and deeper meaning with the church's practice of faithful discipleship. As folks enter the church's communion of grace, Matthaei challenges church leaders to utilize the gifts of every member and lays out a plan to help congregations grow in faith and communion with God and creation, including the context and goal of such ministry, deciding what to teach and who shall teach, and attendant relationships, structures, and practices.

Spiritual Formation in Emerging Adulthood David P. Setran, Chris A. Kiesling, 2013-08-15 The shift from adolescence to adulthood, a recently identified stage of life called emerging adulthood, covers an increasing span of years in today's culture, roughly ages 18-30, due to later marriages and extended education. During this prolonged stage of exploration and self-definition, many young adults drift away from the church. Here, two authors, both veteran teachers who are experienced in young adult and campus ministry, address this new and urgent field of study, offering a Christian perspective on what it means to be spiritually formed into adulthood. They provide a practical theology for emerging adult ministry and offer insight into the key developmental issues of this stage of life, including identity, intimacy, and sexuality, morality, church involvement, spiritual formation, vocation, and mentoring. The book bridges the gap between academic and popular literature on emerging adulthood and offers concrete ways to facilitate spiritual formation among emerging adults.

Spirituality in Ministerial Formation Andrew Mayes, 2009-10-01 This is a ground-breaking study into a crucial area of theological education. It uncovers significant and surprising functions of prayer in the formational and learning process, as discovered in empirical research informed by theological and psychological perspectives on prayer among a sample of newly ordained clergy and tutors. The practical implications of the research are identified, offering creative ideas for a renewed understanding and praxis of the role of prayer in learning. This is essential reading for theological students and teachers alike and calls for a clearer articulation of a spirituality of education as needed by our present culture and context.
