Britton,Arthur C. Graesser,2014-02-25 What is text understanding It is the dynamic process of constructing coherent representations and inferences at multiple levels of text and context within the bottleneck of a limited capacity working memory The field of text and discourse has advanced to the point where researchers have developed sophisticated models of comprehension and identified the particular assumptions that underlie comprehension mechanisms in precise analytical or mathematical detail The models offer a priori predictions about thought and behavior not merely ad hoc descriptions of data Indeed the field has evolved to a mature science The contributors to this volume collectively cover the major models of comprehension in the field of text and discourse Other books are either narrow covering only a single theoretical framework or do not focus on systematic modeling efforts In addition this book focuses on deep levels of understanding rather than language codes syntax and other shallower levels of text analysis As such it provides readers with up to date information on current psychological models specified in quantitative or analytical detail

Language Comprehension As Structure Building Morton Ann Gernsbacher,2013-09-05 This book presents a new theoretical framework what Gernsbacher calls the Structure Building Framework for understanding language comprehension in particular and cognitive processing in general According to this framework the goal in comprehending both linguistic and nonlinguistic materials is to build a coherent mental representation or structure of the information being comprehended As such the underlying processes and mechanisms of structure building are viewed as general cognitive processes and mechanisms The strength of the volume lies in its empirical detail a thorough literature review and solid original data
