Fort Robinson and the American West, 1874-1899 Thomas R. Buecker, 2003 Established in 1874 just south of the Black Hills Fort Robinson witnessed many of the most dramatic most tragic encounters between whites and American Indians including the Cheyenne Outbreak the death of Crazy Horse the Ghost Dance the desperation and diplomacy of such famed plains Indian leaders as Dull Knife and Red Cloud and the tragic sequence of events surrounding Wounded Knee Fort Robinson Roger T. Grange, 1972 Fort Robinson and the American Century, 1900-1948 Thomas R. Buecker, 2004 Most fort histories end when the military lowers the flag for the last time and the soldiers march out In contrast Fort Robinson occupied and used for more than fifty years since its abandonment by the U S army has taken on new roles This book recounts the story of this famous northwestern Nebraska army post as it underwent remarkable transformation in the first half of the twentieth century In the early 1900s Fort Robinson hosted the last of the African American buffalo soldiers to serve in Nebraska In the 1920s and 1930s the fort procured and issued thousands of horses for the U S army s largest remount depot During World War II Fort Robinson housed the army s primary war dog training center and served as a major internment camp for German prisoners of war After 1948 Fort Robinson became a beef research center and is now the state s premier park Fort Robinson and the American Century 1900 1948 is based on more than twenty years of archival research as well as the personal recollections of the men and women who served at the fort More than ninety photographs and five maps supplement the narrative Fort Robinson, Outpost on the Plains Roger T. Grange, Nebraska State Historical Society, 1958-01-01 Forts of the United States Bud Hannings, 2020-10-02 From forts to blockhouses garrison houses to trading posts stations to presidios missions to ranches and towns this work provides a history of the primary fortifications established during 400 tumultuous years in what would become the United States of America Under each state s heading this substantial volume contains alphabetized entries with information regarding each structure s history The earliest forts established by the Danes Dutch English French Portuguese Swedes and Mexicans and by the temporary appearance of the Russians are listed The colonial American forts many of which were previously established by the European powers are covered in detail Beginning with the American Revolution each of the American military fortifications militia forts settlers forts and blockhouses is listed and described Helpful appendices list Civil War defenses and military hospitals of Washington D C Florida Seminole Indian war forts Pony Express depots Spanish missions and presidios and twentieth century U S forts posts bases and stations A chronology of conflicts that paralleled the growth of the United States is also provided offering insight into the historical context of fort construction Outpost of the Sioux Wars Frank N. Schubert, 1995-01-01 In 1874 Fort Robinson was founded amid the piney ridges of northwest Nebraska to stem the attacks of the Sioux angered by settlers encroaching on the High Plains and by gold prospectors invading their sacred Black Hills Fort Robinson s residents including black troops members of the Ninth and Tenth Cavalry Regiments were divided by rank and sometimes by race

Schubert makes clear the vital importance of Fort Robinson during the Sioux wars including the Ghost Dance Uprisings of 1890 and he blends social analysis with military history in his concern for the families of soldiers and civilians

Nebraska POW Camps Melissa Amateis Marsh,2014-04-15 During World War II thousands of Axis prisoners of war were held throughout Nebraska in base camps that included Fort Robinson Camp Scottsbluff and Camp Atlanta Many Nebraskans did not view the POWs as evil Nazis To them they were ordinary men and very human And while their stay was not entirely free from conflict many former captives returned to the Cornhusker State to begin new lives after the cessation of hostilities Drawing on first person accounts from soldiers former POWs and Nebraska residents as well as archival research Melissa Marsh delves into the neglected history of Nebraska s POW camps marched out to participate in the Great Sioux War of 1876-1877. The famous Oglala leader Crazy Horse was killed at the post. In 1878 Dull Knife's band of Northern Cheyenne attempted to escape the post, resulting in more than 64 deaths. Troops from Fort Robinson were also sent to the Pine Ridge Agency during the Ghost Dance fervor in 1890, the last of the armed conflicts with the Lakota. The arrival of the railroad at Fort Robinson initiated a new role for the post in the 20th century. Between 1885 and 1907 Fort Robinson was home to the 9th and 10th Cavalry, the famous buffalo soldiers. In 1919 Fort Robinson became a remount depot where horses and mules were purchased and conditioned for issue to the army. During World War II Fort Robinson included a German POW internment camp and the site of the army's largest war dog reception and training center. The fort closed in 1948 and was made a state park in 1972.
