US GLOBAL INTERESTS IN THE 1990s A NEW APPROACH, The Moral Wager Malcolm Murray, 2007-05-05 In the following chapters I offer an evolutionary account of morality and from that extrapolate a version of contractarianism I call consent theory Game theory helps to highlight the evolution of morality as a resolution of interpersonal conflicts under strategic negotiation It is this emphasis on strategic negotiation that underwrites the idea of consent Consent theory differs from other contractarian models by abandoning reliance on rational self interest in favour of evolutionary adaptation From this more emphasis will be placed on consent as natural convergence rather than consent as an idealization My picture of contractarianism then ends up looking more like the relativist model offered by Harman rather than the rational or pseudo rational model offered by Gauthier let alone the Kantian brands of Rawls or Scanlon So at least some of my discussion will dwell on why it is no loss to abandon hope for the universal categorical morality that rational models promise In the introduction I offer the betting analogy that underwrites the remaining picture There are some bets where the expected utility is positive though the odds of winning on this particular occasion are exceedingly low In such cases we cannot hope to give an argument that taking the bet is rational The only thing we can say is that those predisposed to take this kind of bet on these kinds of occasions will do better than those with other dispositions so long as such games occur often enough

21st-Century Statecraft Nayef Al-Rodhan, 2022-07-28 From civilisational frontier risks associated with new challenges like disruptive technologies to the shifting nature of great power conflicts and subversion the 21st century requires a new approach to statecraft In 21st Century Statecraft Professor Nayef Al Rodhan proposes five innovative statecraft concepts He makes the case for a new method of geopolitical analysis called meta geopolitics and for dignity based governance He shows how in an interdependent and interconnected world traditional thinking must move beyond zero sum games and focus on multi sum and symbiotic realist interstate relations This requires a new paradigm of global security premised on five dimensions of security and a new concept of power just power which highlights the centrality of justice to state interests These concepts enable states to balance competing interests and work towards what the author calls reconciliation statecraft Throughout Professor Al Rodhan brings his philosophical and neuroscientific expertise to bear providing a practical model for conducting statecraft in a sustainable way Global Development Frans Doorman, 1998 In Global Development development specialist Frans Doorman analyses the economic environmental and social problems humanity is facing today from economic insecurity and destitute poverty to crime environmental degradation and political ineptitude He explains why in spite of environmental growth and technological development many people actually face a decline in their living conditions Frans Doorman suggests that although the economic social and environmental problems we face are huge they can be overcome by investing humanity's creative energy and skills in a worldwide program for sustainable development The main components and ways of financing such a program are described Acting for the Common Good Michael J. McGrath, 2023-08-08 The goods that we pursue in our lives are for us first and foremost goods that are particular and personal and thus goods that are immediate to our attention Not readily apparent to us are goods necessary for the flourishing of our lives but that can be attained by us only in consort with others and thus realized only through collective action Such goods are common goods The wider the good the more extensive must be the human cooperation to realize the good A stable orderly society and a habitable planetary environment are common goods that can be realized only in and through the cooperation of all for the benefit of all That all contribute to the shared good of the whole is a matter of justice social justice Acting for the Common Good undertakes the study of social justice in light of the common good this from the viewpoint of Catholic social teaching which draws upon the tradition of the common good that is articulated classically in the philosophy of Aristotle and the theology of Thomas Aquinas and in the modern day social thought and authoritative teachings of the Catholic Church

Japan in the Global Community Yasusuke Murakami, Yutaka Kōsai, 1986 China's Ascent Robert S. Ross, Zhu Feng, 2008 Assessments of China's importance on the world stage usually focus on a single dimension of China's increasing power rather than on the multiple sources of China's rise including its economic might and the continuing modernization of its military This book offers multiple analytical perspectives constructivist liberal neorealist on the significance of the many dimensions of China's regional and global influence Distinguished authors consider the likelihood of conflict and peaceful accommodation as China grows ever stronger They look at the changing position of China from the inside How do Chinese policymakers evaluate the contemporary international order and what are the regional and global implications of that worldview The authors also address the implications of China's increasing power for Chinese policymaking and for the foreign policies of Korea Japan and the United States Contributors Robert Art Brandeis University Avery Goldstein University of Pennsylvania G John Ikenberry Princeton University Byung Kook Kim Korea University Jonathan Kirshner Cornell University Jeffrey W Legro University of Virginia Jack S Levy Rutgers University Qin Yaqing China Foreign Affairs University Robert S Ross Boston College Akio Takahara University of Tokyo Tang Shiping Nanyang Technological University Singapore Wei Ling China Foreign Affairs University Zhu Feng Peking University Pacific Affairs, 1967 Includes book reviews and bibliographies Current World Leaders, 1995 Global Geopolitical Change and the Asia-Pacific Dennis Rumley, 1996 This work looks at events which have had fundamental implications for the geopolitical relations in and with the Asia Pacific region It covers issues such as regional definition the emergence of regional integration the role of Japan China Russia and India and security and trade Worldwide Report, 1986 Foreign Policy, 1983 Nixon's Vietnam War Jeffrey P. Kimball, 1998 The signing of the Paris Agreement in 1973 ended not only America's Vietnam War but also Richard Nixon's best laid plans After years of secret negotiations threats of massive bombing and secret diplomacy designed to shatter strained Communist alliances the president had to settle for a peace that fell far short of his original aims The Spanish-American War and President McKinley Lewis L. Gould, 1982 This lively thought provoking analysis is based on the author's highly acclaimed Presidency of William McKinley. This is by all odds the best study of the coming of the war, the war itself, and the aftermath of the conflict. Paul S. Holbo, University of Oregon. According to the author, McKinley's enhancement of presidential power and his personal leadership in war making and diplomacy made him the first truly modern president. This thesis is carefully developed and effectively argued. The book's brevity, readability, and interpretive insights make it attractive for the classroom. But this is no mere digest for undergraduates; for more advanced scholars, you can learn from it, too. Pacific Historical Review The Presidency of Benjamin Harrison Homer Edward Socolofsky, Allan B. Spetter, 1987. Benjamin Harrison was an early proponent of American expansion in the Pacific, a key figure in such landmark legislation as the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and the McKinley Tariff, and one of the Gilded Age's most eloquent speakers. Yet he remains one of our most neglected and least understood presidents. In this first interpretive study of the Harrison administration, the authors illuminate our twenty-third president's character and policies and rescue him from the long shadow of his charismatic secretary of state, James G. Blaine. An Ohio native and Indiana lawyer, Harrison opened the second century of the American presidency in a rapidly industrializing and expanding nation. His inaugural address reflected the nation's optimism: "The masses of our people are better fed, clothed, and housed than their fathers were. The facilities for popular education have been vastly enlarged and more generally diffused. The virtues of courage and patriotism have given proof of their continued presence and increasing power in the hearts and over the lives of our people. But the burdens and realities of his office soon imposed themselves upon Harrison. The biggest blow came at midterm with the Republicans' devastating losses in the 1890 congressional elections. In an era of congressional dominance, those losses eroded Harrison's position as a legislative advocate, at least for domestic issues. His impact in foreign affairs was more lasting. One of the highlights of this study is its revealing look at Harrison's visionary foreign policy, especially toward the Pacific. Socolofsky and Spetter convincingly demonstrate that although Harrison's ambition to acquire the Hawaiian Islands was not realized during his presidency, his foreign policy was a major step toward American control of Hawaii and American expansion in the Far East. Aetna Casualty & Surety Company v. Chicago Insurance Company, 1992 Presidents and Prime Ministers Patricia Lee Sykes, 2000. She reveals how conviction-style politicians have appeared in the U.S. and U.K. at the same time, individuals who articulated similar ideas that adapted liberal ideology to shifting circumstances and who achieved fundamental change at critical moments in their nations' histories. Proceedings, Managing the High Technology Firm Luis R. Gomez-Mejia, Michael W. Lawless, 1988 The New Age, 1930 A Report on Large Landholdings in Southern California, with Recommendations California Commission of Immigration and Housing, 1919
