Many Sides: A Protagorean Approach to the Theory, Practice and Pedagogy of Argument M. Mendelson, 2013-06-29 Many Sides is the first full length study of Protagorean antilogic an argumentative practice with deep roots in rhetorical history and renewed relevance for contemporary culture Founded on the philosophical relativism of Protagoras antilogic is a dynamic rather than a formal approach to argument focused principally on the dialogical interaction of opposing positions anti logoi in controversy In ancient Athens antilogic was the cardinal feature of Sophistic rhetoric In Rome Cicero redefined Sophistic argument in a concrete set of dialogical procedures In turn Quintilian inherited this dialogical tradition and made it the centrepiece of his own rhetorical practice and pedagogy Many Sides explores the history theory and pedagogy of this neglected rhetorical tradition and by appeal to recent rhetorical and philosophical theory reconceives the enduring features of antilogical practice in a dialogical approach to argumentation especially suited to the pluralism of our own age and the diversity of modern classrooms

Literary Theory and the New Testament Michal Beth Dinkler, 2019-11-26 A comprehensive case for a fresh literary approach to the New Testament For at least a half century scholars have been adopting literary approaches to the New Testament inspired by certain branches of literary criticism and theory In this important and illuminating work Michal Beth Dinkler uses contemporary literary theory to enhance our understanding and interpretation of the New Testament texts Dinkler provides an integrated approach to the relation between literary theory and biblical interpretation employing a wide range of practical theories and methods This indispensable work engages foundational concepts and figures the historical contexts of various theoretical approaches and ongoing literary scholarship into the twenty first century In Literary Theory and the New Testament Dinkler assesses previous literary treatments of the New Testament and calls for a new phase of nuanced thinking about New Testament texts as both ancient and literary Psychoanalytic Complexity William J. Coburn, 2014-01-03 Psychoanalytic Complexity is the application of a multidisciplinary explanatory theory to clinical psychoanalysis and psychotherapy It carries with it incisive and pivotal attitudes that aim to transform our understanding of therapeutic action and the change process Here William Coburn offers a revolutionary and far reaching counterpoint to the remnants of Cartesianism and scientism respecting and encouraging human anomaly rather than pathologizing or obliterating the uniqueness of the individual person In Psychoanalytic Complexity William Coburn explores the value of complexity theory previously understood as an explanatory framework with which clinicians can better understand retrospectively therapeutic action and the change process He further extends this sensibility by examining the ways in which such a rich theoretical framework can inform what clinicians can do prospectively to effect positive change within the therapeutic relationship He persuasively argues that the medium of bringing to light new ways of relating emotional experiencing and meaning making resides in the fundamental attitudes derived from a complexity theory sensibility as applied to psychoanalysis and psychotherapy Using a variety of clinical illustrations throughout Psychoanalytic Complexity is a radical corrective to reductionism and the more traditional presumption that the problem lies with the patient and the cure lies with the therapist It offers a new language vocabulary way of thinking and a new way of being with others that are pivotal in arriving at affirmative therapeutic change This book is intended for psychoanalysts clinical psychologists therapists mental health counsellors academics and teachers who are interested in new trends in psychoanalysis and psychotherapy Finding Meaning in Wine Michael Sinowitz,2023-08-01

This book examines controversies in American wine culture and how those controversies intersect with and illuminate current academic and cultural debates about the environment and about interpretation With a specific focus on the United States of America the methods that we use to discuss literature and other art are applied to wine making and wine culture The book explores the debates about how to evaluate wine and the problems inherent in numerical scoring as well as evaluative tasting notes whether winemakers can be artists the discourse in wine culture involving natural wine and biodynamic farming as well as how people judge what makes a wine great These interpretative commitments illuminate an underlying metaphysics and allegiance to a culture of reason or feeling The discussions engage with a broad range of writers and thinkers such as Roland Barthes Susan Sontag Louis Menand Michael Pollan Greg Garrard John Guillory Amitov Ghosh Pierre Bourdieu and Barbara Herrnstein Smith The book draws upon not only a number of texts produced by wine critics wine writers literary critics and theorists but also extensive interviews with wine writers and multiple California winemakers These interviews contribute to a unique reflection on wine and meaning This book will be of great interest to readers looking to learn more about wine from cultural literary and philosophical perspectives Pedagogical Desire Jan jagodzinski,2002-06-30 What is the right pedagogical distance for learning to take place What should be the teacher s role concerning a student s desire Ethically speaking how are we to understand the dialectic between desire and the drive Are we obligated to help students mourn the knowledge that they must let go Can ignorance which sounds pejorative be pedagogically useful as that which is unsaid and repressed When the pedagogical distance collapses and seduction takes place can such behavior be excused These are just some of the questions that are raised throughout this collection by the authors Lacanian psychoanalysis presents a challenge to our usual understanding of the subject as formulated by ego psychology as well as the discursive subject of postmodernism Can Lacan s tripartite psychic registers of the Real Imaginary and the Symbolic present the subject in unending intrapsychic conflict Can pedagogy address this struggle How do we as educators take the notion of the unconscious seriously into account The authors of this collection engage themselves in such questioning in some cases examining their own practices and in other cases developing possible strategies with a view of understanding the psychic life of teaching Calendar London School of Economics and Political Science,1923
