False Alibi:

False Alibi Peter Norman Walker, 1991 False Alibi Marguerite Sansone, 2014-12-29 Library Assistant Cory Parker gets more than she bargains for when a rekindled childhood friendship with Elizabeth Strafford catapults her on the trail of a murderer Cory and Elizabeth have more in common than having once shared a school bus They've both lost people they love through violence Cory sets out to solve the murder of Elizabeth's mother in order to give her friend the peace and closure she needs The past bleeds into the present as Cory uncovers a murder plot gone bad the truth of which threatens to destroy both women A stranger interferes with Cory's research as clues emerge intimately tying Elizabeth to the killer Evidence linking the murderer to the crime turns up in Cory's possession making her a target Cory closes in on the killer just as the killer closes in on her False Alibi Peter N. Walker, 1993 Alibis and Corroborators Joshua D. Behl, Megan R. Kienzle, 2022-05-09 This book aims to increase understanding of alibis and corroborators examining the role alibis play or fail to play in innocence cases It analyses the factors that can influence the suspect the defense team the alibi corroborator and ultimately the alibi statement itself Recognition of and reactions to wrongful convictions have been on the rise as researchers and society take a closer more critical look at America's criminal justice system In addition to serving as a complete review of the science this volume discusses issues such as alibi generation alibi believability a proposed theory of alibis international comparisons of issues in alibi corroboration age and gender differences in alibi corroboration attorney perceptions and use of alibi evidence and erroneous alibis Offering an in-depth empirical view this book will appeal to students and researchers interested in Criminology Legal Psychology Social Psychology Law and practitioners in our legal and criminal justice systems who are making tough decisions about this distinctive witness type Alibi Richard Norman Gooderson, 1977 Alibi Witnesses Karen Ryndak, 2014 Hamilton's Rule 1964 involves the notion that the likelihood of an altruistic act being performed is predicted by the degree of relatedness between the recipient and the donor Therefore the extent to which people would be willing to lie for a defendant is a function of the degree of biological relationship between the defendant and the alibi witness The researchers of the current study presented participants with one murder and one burglary packet containing a police report summary and a hypothetical scenario The summary police report detailed case facts evidence collected and witness statements Following their reading of the police report summary participants made judgments on witness credibility defendant's guilt and types of evidence In the hypothetical scenarios participants were asked to imagine their father or male friend is pleading with them to act as an alibi witness Participants then agreed or disagreed to serve as an alibi witness Overall the researchers found participants were unwilling to provide false alibis however when they were participants gave false alibis for their father more often than for their friend Limitations may be a restricted sample evidence certainty and the yes or no decision to providing a false alibi Future research should include an examination of individual differences and moral development Record on Appeal from Court of General Sessions, New York County ,

Advances in Psychology and Law Brian H. Bornstein, Monica K. Miller, 2019-02-05 The present volume consists of up to date review articles on topics relevant to psychology and law and will be of current interest to the field Notably the majority of these topics are currently attracting a great deal of research and public policy attention in the U S and elsewhere as evidenced by programs at the American Psychology Law Society and related conferences Topics for the present volume include attitudes toward the police Cole et al alibis Charman et al hate crimes based on gender and sexual orientation Plumm Leighton the role of gender at trial Livingston et al neuroimages in court Glen intimate partner violence Mauer Reppucci post identification feedback Douglass Smalarz and individual differences in eyewitness identification Snowden Bornstein veterans wellbeing Berthelot Prager and plea bargaining Levett *California.
