Strategies for Teaching Learners with Special Needs Edward A. Polloway, James R. Patton, Loretta Serna, 2005 This comprehensive non categorical special education methods book retains the key features that have made it a bestseller within the special education field for more than 20 years The authors give substantial coverage to generic methods and to all curricular content areas In the new edition increased emphasis is given to effective research based teaching strategies that will enable students with special needs to be successful in any classroom environment inclusive classrooms resource and self contained classrooms Student-focused Conferencing and Planning Diane S. Bassett, Jean P. Lehmann, 2002

American Book Publishing Record, 2005 Infusing Real-life Topics Into Existing Curricula James R. Patton, Mary E. Cronin, Susan J. Wood, 1999 This book is a practical resource that presents a step by step procedure for integrating real life i e life skills content into curricular materials used in classrooms The main feature of this book is the section that includes 17 examples of this infusion process The examples are taken from current instructional materials from general and special education and represent the majority of possible subject areas typically part of the school s curriculum Each example has an actual page from a textbook or other instructional material and completed Infusion Planning Guide Growing Up Daniel E. Steere, Ernest David Rose, Domenico Cavaiuolo, 2007 Through case studies and clearly presented content this book helps readers learn what they can do to assist students with disabilities in achieving positive adult outcomes Professionals students of special education and families of students with disabilities will all benefit from this comprehensive introduction to transition services This book provides a comprehensive and clear introduction to effective transition services for students with disabilities who are leaving the special education system The Prologue and Chapter 1 provide an overview of the topic of transition services and the remaining chapters go into detail about specific aspects of the transition planning process The central roles of students with disabilities and their families are emphasized Case studies of two individuals one with mild disabilities and one with severe disabilities are followed throughout the text to illustrate effective practices ensuring readers are able to apply the content to students with different types and severity of disabilities and are able to understand how practices can be tailored to meet individual student needs The content is presented so that readers can apply key strategies immediately in their work as teachers or in other professional capacities Research Summaries in each chapter address the research basis for effective practices that are discussed throughout the book Spotlight on History in most chapters provides a short biography on an individual who made a significant contribution to the development of transition services Additional resources and websites are included at the end of each chapter
