Family Research:

Intercultural Variation in Family Research and Theory Roma S Hanks, Marvin B Sussman, 2014-05-12 Intercultural Variation in Family Research and Theory sets forth 23 critical reviews in a 2 volume set that document the development of family research and theory in various societies around the world Focusing on modern research while drawing on the historical roots of theoretical and methodological approaches employed in the study of family this collection not only increases your knowledge about the status of family research in various countries but also inspires cross national research among researchers and scholars The societies being studied have been grouped by region Volume I contains the set s Introduction and contributions from the Far East the Baltic region Australia and South Africa Volume II covers the Middle East Western Europe Scandinavia and also includes the Index The materials in these two volumes are the result of the charge given to scholars of 23 societies to review the development of family theory and research in their homelands Their obligation was to provide an analytic report telling a story from their perspective of reality The book s editors now present some of the commonality of experiences and trends of the researchers and interpret country differences and similarities from their writings Intercultural Variation in Family Research and Theory holds numerous suggestions for your investigations into the family field You ll find that the set adds to the body of knowledge on comparative family analysis and raises concerns and issues for future research The questions addressed in this book include how gender of the investigator influences choice of research topics how funding sources shape the research agenda what influence a researcher s career trajectory has on research topics methods and procedures why psychological and sociological frameworks and methodologies are commonly used in family research how political policy influences and dictates theory development and research what to do about the multitude of new questions that inevitably arise from such intercultural research Cross-national family research, ed Marvin Bernard Sussman, Betty E. Cogswell, 1972 Methods of Family Research Theodore N. Greenstein, Shannon N. Davis, 2012-07-16 In the 3rd edition of Methods of Family Research authors Theodore N Greenstein and Shannon N Davis continue to help students better understand the research results they encounter in doing family research Using real life examples to illustrate important concepts that family researchers encounter regularly the text covers traditional quantitative methods qualitative methods and the mixed method approach Written in a clear concise style this book differs from other research methods texts which focus on teaching students how to produce research by teaching them how to consume research in a sophisticated effective manner The book introduces the basic concepts of social science research methods without excessive technical details Key Concepts in Family Studies Jane Ribbens McCarthy, Rosalind Edwards, 2010-12-29 Key Concepts in Family Studie s individual entries introduce explain and contextualize the key topics within the study of the family Definitions summaries and key words are developed throughout with careful cross referencing allowing students to move effortlessly between core ideas and themes Each entry provides clear definitions lucid accounts of key issues up to date

suggestions for further reading and informative cross referencing Relevant focused and accessible this book will provide students with an indispensable guide to the central concepts of family studies

Sourcebook of Family Theory and Research Vern L. Bengtson, Alan C. Acock, Katherine R. Allen, Peggye Dilworth-Anderson, David M. Klein, 2004-11-09 Sponsored by the National Council on Family Relations the Sourcebook of Family Theory and Research is the reference work on theory and methods for family scholars and students around the world This volume provides a diverse eclectic and paradoxically mature approach to theorizing and demonstrates how the development of theory is crucial to the future of family research The Sourcebook reflects an interactive approach that focuses on the process of theory building and designing research thereby engaging readers in doing theory rather than simply reading about it An accompanying Web site <http://www.ncfr.org/sourcebook> offers additional participation and interaction in the process of doing theory and making science

Tracing Family Lines Amy M. Smith, 2012-10-18 Family genealogy research has grown exponentially over the past decade making it an area worthy of scholarly inquest Tracing Family Lines The Impact of Genealogy Research on Family Communication by Amy M Smith explores the connection between women and genealogy by examining the ways inherited familial narratives and data work to position women within American culture Although studies of women's lives are on the rise the standpoints of women has historically been marginalized particularly as women continue to be relegated to domestic and family care Through researching these standpoints we are better able to see the political constructions of sexist oppression as well as the ways genealogy offers a possible site for resistance Interviewing women who are engaged in the act of researching their own family genealogy provides insight into their motivation for doing so In documenting the family communication that surrounds the genealogical data as well as studying the family organizational structure this study contributes to the existing research regarding family history and family narrative As many of these women are members of local genealogical societies they are also able to address aspects of community membership and the positioning of women within these organizations As women and genealogy are both under researched Tracing Family Lines illuminates the experiences of women genealogists to understand the impact of genealogical data upon family communication and to explore family genealogy as a site of feminist resistance to the socio political marginalization of women
