Influence Models in Group Decision-Making Hang Luo,2025-11-12 This book examines influence among decision makers in group decision making It is quite common that people influence and are influenced by each other in group decision making Likewise artificial intelligences can influence and be influenced by each other in interaction or collaboration and both a person and an artificial intelligence can be called an agent The author explores how humans or artificial intelligences can interact with and influence each other during the decision making process where such influence can reshape the outcome of the group decision With an interdisciplinary approach various applications are considered including computer science distributed computing distributed artificial intelligence particularly multi agent system economics and management joint stock company voting and politics domestic elections and international organization decision making The book presents settings of group decision making where agents preferences choices are influenced and thus changed by each other As the influence of reality faced by an agent usually comes from more than one agent simultaneously the author provides both cardinal and ordinal approaches building social influence functions and a matrix influence function to address multiple sources of influence in group decision making To better describe the complex influence in reality the author provides a framework of the three levels of influence and its mathematical models to address individual coalitional and structural influence and their mixed effects in the context of group decision making Even though it is not easy to address the influence of structures on an agent as the influencing subject and the influenced object are disparate the former is the inter relationships between agents while the latter is the preference choice of a single agent Furthermore the author considers combinatorial and collective decision making and provides a framework model of influence across multiple agents and issues
