Why was FloridaInvasives.org developed?

Public and private land managers have identified the top ecological and economic cost of invasive species as a statewide problem in Florida. The Florida Invasive Species Partnership (FISP) is a collaboration of federal, state and local agencies along with non-government organizations in Florida, focused on the efforts of preventing and controlling infestations of invasive exotic plants across agency and property boundaries. FISP has developed an on-line tool of available financial and technical assistance records to make it easier for landowners and land managers to find them.

How does FloridaInvasives.org help you?

Each year, multiple agencies and organizations provide cost-share programs, grants and/or technical assistance to help landowners and land managers with various species of nature resource management problems. Invasive exotic species management is an important problem shared with many of these programs.

FISP has created a searchable database, accessible at FloridaInvasives.org. That gives you the information which agencies or organizations might have an available program for your needs. Simply provide your county, target species, geographic location and elevation into the search tool, and you will receive a list of available programs along with the most up-to-date contact information. FloridaInvasives.org will help provide focus to your search so that you can get the right person at the right program.

FloridaInvasives.org helps connecting agencies, managers linked resources through cooperation and may reduce individual land management costs. This resource will be regularly updated with the most current program information to provide you the most up-to-date opportunities.
