Famine Crimes:

Famine Crimes Alexander De Waal,1997 Who is responsible for the failures African generals and politicians are the prime culprits for creating famines in Sudan Somalia and Zaire but western donors abet their authoritarianism partly through imposing structural adjustment programmes Famine Crimes Alexander De Waal,1997 Mass Starvation Alex de Waal,2017-12-08 The world almost conquered famine Until the 1980s this scourge killed ten million people every decade but by early 2000s mass starvation had all but disappeared Today famines are resurgent driven by war blockade hostility to humanitarian principles and a volatile global economy In Mass Starvation world renowned expert on humanitarian crisis and response Alex de Waal provides an authoritative history of modern famines their causes dimensions and why they ended He analyses starvation as a crime and breaks new ground in examining forced starvation as an instrument of genocide and war Refuting the enduring but erroneous view that attributes famine to overpopulation and natural disaster he shows how political decision or political failing is an essential element in every famine while the spread of democracy and human rights and the ending of wars were major factors in the near ending of this devastating phenomenon Hard hitting and deeply informed Mass Starvation explains why man made famine and the political decisions that could end it for good must once again become a top priority for the international community Invisible Atrocities Randle C. DeFalco,2022-03-17 International criminal justice is at its core an anti atrocity project Yet just what an atrocity is remains undefined and undertheorized This book examines how associations between atrocity commission and the production of horrific spectacles shape the processes through which international crimes are identified and conceptualized leading to the foregrounding of certain forms of mass violence and the backgrounding or complete invisibilization of others In doing so it identifies various seemingly banal ways through which international crimes may be committed and demonstrates how the criminality of such forms of violence and abuse tends to be obfuscated This book suggests that the failure to address these invisible atrocities represents a major flaw in the current international criminal justice system one that produces a host of problematic repercussions and undermines the legal legitimacy of international criminal law itself A Critical Introduction to International Criminal Law Carsten Stahn,2019 Presents theories practices and critiques alongside each other to engage students scholars and professionals from multiple fields This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Time for Reparations Jacqueline Bhabha,Margareta Matache,Caroline Elkins,2021-09-03 In this sweeping international perspective on reparations Time for Reparations makes the case that past state injustice be it slavery or colonization forced sterilization or widespread atrocities has enduring consequences that generate ongoing harm which needs to be addressed as a matter of justice and equity Time for Reparations provides a wealth of detailed and diverse examples of state injustice from enslavement of African Americans in the United States and Roma in Romania to colonial exploitation and brutality in Guatemala Algeria Indonesia Jamaica and Guadeloupe From many vantage points contributing authors discuss different

reparative strategies and the impact they would have on the lives of survivor or descent communities One of the strengths of this book is its interdisciplinary perspective contributors are historians anthropologists human rights lawyers sociologists and political scientists Many of the authors are both scholars and advocates actively involved in one capacity or another in the struggles for reparations they describe The book therefore has a broad and inclusive scope aided by an accessible and cogent writing style It appeals to scholars students advocates and others concerned about addressing some of the most profound and enduring injustices of our time

Shaping the Humanitarian World Peter Walker, Daniel Maxwell, 2014-08-07 Providing a critical introduction to the notion of humanitarianism in global politics tracing the concept from its origins to the twenty first century this book examines how the so called international community works in response to humanitarian crises and the systems that bind and divide them By tracing the history on international humanitarian action from its early roots through the birth of the Red Cross to the beginning of the UN Peter Walker and Daniel G Maxwell examine the challenges humanitarian agencies face from working alongside armies and terrorists to witnessing genocide They argue that humanitarianism has a vital future but only if those practicing it choose to make it so Topics covered include the rise in humanitarian action as a political tool the growing call for accountability of agencies the switch of NGOs from bit players to major trans national actors the conflict between political action and humanitarian action when it comes to addressing causes as well as symptoms of crisis This book is essential reading for anyone with an interest in international human rights law disaster management and international relations
