Giuseppe Penone:

Seeing Through Closed Eyelids Elizabeth Mangini,2021-04-07 Can a work of art help us know our world differently In this first scholarly study of Giuseppe Penone art historian Elizabeth Mangini argues that the Italian artist s engagement of the body s multiple senses constitutes a new theory of sculpture as a means to connect with and know the phenomenal world Through close readings of signal works across Penone s five decade career from his emergence in the context of 1960s Arte povera to his position as a pre eminent contemporary artist today Mangini demonstrates how Penone refuses modernist opticality recasts artistic labour and emphasizes a non anthropocentric concept of time Penone s approach challenges viewers to broaden their sensory and temporal perceptions creating structurally significant new ways to understand human experience Giuseppe Penone is best known for his engagement with trees which he employs as raw material imagery and an active force in the creative process Seeing Through Closed Eyelids suggests that such works materialize the perceptible tensions between any organism and its environment By locating Penone s art in its social context and connecting it to broader discourses about art s status theories of phenomenology and the anthropocene this book offers an original reading of Penone s work as well as a wider view of the artistic generation for whom sculpture was a means to probe the nature of experience itself at the dawn of postmodernism Giuseppe Penone Giuseppe Penone,Jonathan Watkins,2009 A collection of short writings by land artist Giuseppe Penone Accompanied by many images of his works and of him working Giuseppe Penone: Thoughts in the Roots Claude Adjil,Alexa Chow,2026-03-31 An Arte Povera mainstay expands his oeuvre connecting humans and the environment and entwining art with nature Known for his environmentally focused sculptures Italian artist Giuseppe Penone born 1947 has experimented with a range of materials including wood iron wax bronze terracotta marble and plaster Thoughts in the Roots brings together works from 1969 to the present Giuseppe Penone Tucci Russo Studio per l'Arte Contemporanea,Giuseppe Penone,2017 Giuseppe Penone Laurent Busine,2016 Giuseppe Penone , Giuseppe Penone Giuseppe Penone,Costantino D'Orazio,Giorgio Verzotti,Ludovico Pratesi,2003 In older works created in the 1970s and new ones made especially for a related exhibition Penone demonstrates his desire for a union between man and nature Amongst the selection represented here four large paintings titled Brain Landscapes present the complex structure of the human cranium as similar to that of a tree Giuseppe Penone Jessica Bradley,Giuseppe Penone,National Gallery of Canada,Fort Worth Art Museum,Museum of Contemporary Art (Chicago, Ill.),1983 Giuseppe Penone Laurent Busine,2017 Being a Skull Georges Didi-Huberman,2016-11-22 What would a sculpture look like that has as its task to touch thought For the French philosopher and Art Historian Georges Didi Huberman this is the central question that permeates throughout the work of Italian artist Giuseppe Penone Through a careful study of Penone s work regarding a sculptural and haptic process of contact with place thought and artistic practice Didi Huberman takes the reader on a journey through various modes of thinking by way of being Taking Penone s artwork Being the river as a thematic starting point Didi Huberman sketches a sweeping view of how artists through the centuries have worked with conceptions of the skull that is the mind and ruminates on where thought is indeed located From Leonardo da Vinci to Albrecht Dürer Didi Huberman guides us to the work of Penone and from there into the attempts of a sculptor whose work strives to touch thought What we uncover is a sculptor whose work becomes a series of traces of the site of thought Attempting to trace by way of a series of frottages reports and developments this imperceptible zone of contact The result is a kind of fossil of the brain the site of thought namely the site for getting lost and for disproving space Sculpting at the same time what inhabits as well as what incorporates us

New Perspectives in Italian Cultural Studies Graziella Parati, 2012-11-10 Following the more theoretical first installment of New Perspectives in Italian Cultural Studies devoted to Definitions Theory and Accented Practices the second volume of New Perspectives deals with practicing cultural studies by offering articles that are valuable for both scholars of Italian studies and students interested in a cultural studies approach Divided in four sections the articles included offer complex approaches to literature film the visual arts and a particular moment in Italian history with which Italians are still coming to terms fascism The essays cover about two hundred years of Italian cultures dealing with the construction of national myths the role of soccer in contemporary debates the contemporary success of mystery novels and issues of race and crime in fascist Italy Contributors look at film through the lens of fashion history and the particular Italian use of dubbing that continues even today Place and memory are the topics of a number of essays that also allow for an interpretation of Italian culture in Americans imagination This volume contains a multifaceted representation of Italy and invites additional discussion on the complexity of representing cultures
