Building Fiction Jesse Lee Kercheval,2003 No one looks at structure like Jesse Lee Kercheval She builds a work of fiction just as an architect would design a house with an eye for details and how all parts of a story or novel interconnect Even with the most dynamic language images and characters no piece of fiction will work without a strong infrastructure Kercheval shows how to build that structure using such tools as point of view characterization pacing and flashbacks Building Fiction will help you envision the landscape of your fiction and build great stories there

The Glass Mountain Martina Evans,1997 Maeve is

19 lives in Cork and wants to be a punk but she won't spit and doesn't really understand anarchy. She spends a lot of time eating chocolates and drinking cider at Curtains bar. This novel encapsulates the excitement of young friendships, love affairs, summer jobs, and shared flats. Life Is Everywhere Lucy Ives, 2022-10-04. A virtuosic radical reimagining of the systems novel by a rampaging mirthful genius Elizabeth McKenzie. Everything that happened was repetition. But it was repetition with a difference. So she dragged along in a spiral, trusting to this form. Manhattan 2014. It's an unseasonably warm Thursday in November and Erin Adamo is locked out of her apartment. Her husband has just left her and meanwhile her keys are in her coat which she abandoned at her parents' apartment when she exited mid-dinner after her father once again lost control. Erin takes refuge in the library of the university where she is a grad student. Her bag contains two manuscripts she's written along with a monograph by a faculty member who's recently become embroiled in a bizarre scandal. Erin isn't sure what she's doing but a small, mostly unconscious part of her knows within these documents is a key she's needed all along. With unflinching precision Life Is Everywhere captures emotional events that hover fitfully at the borders of visibility and intelligibility, showing how the past lives on often secretly and at the expense of the present. It's about one person on one evening reckoning with heartbreak, a story that to be fully told unexpectedly requires many others from the history of botulism to an enigmatic surrealist prank. Multifarious, mischievous, and deeply humane, Lucy Ives's latest masterpiece rejoices in what a novel and a self can carry.

Votan and Other Novels John James, 2015-05-28. In the second century AD a Greek nobleman is travelling and living abroad in Germany while carrying on an affair with a military man's wife. When discovered he takes an emergency business trip to save his life and packs amongst his belongings certain items that lead the people he encounters to think him a Norse God, a fortuitous point of view which he does little to dispel. Forced to keep up the pretence of being a god while staying one step ahead of his lover's jealous husband Photinus must juggle the severity of his situation with the enjoyment of being a god. Published here with its sequel NOT FOR ALL THE GOLD IN IRELAND and companion volume MEN WENT TO CATTREATH. VOTAN is one of the highpoints of modern fantasy.
