The Founding Documents of the United States of America includes the Constitution of the United States the Declaration of Independence the Bill of Rights all Amendments to the Constitution The Federalist Papers by Alexander Hamilton James Madison and John Jay and Common Sense by Thomas Paine The Federalist Papers is a collection of 85 articles and essays written under the pseudonym Publius to promote the ratification of the United States Constitution The Federalist Papers are notable for their opposition to what later became the United States Bill of Rights The idea of adding a Bill of Rights to the Constitution was originally controversial because the Constitution as written did not specifically enumerate or protect the rights of the people rather it listed the powers of the government and left all that remained to the states and the people Alexander Hamilton the author of Federalist No 84 feared that such an enumeration once written down explicitly would later be interpreted as a list of the only rights that people had Common Sense was a pamphlet written by Thomas Paine advocating independence from Great Britain to people in the Thirteen Colonies Writing in clear and persuasive prose Paine marshaled moral and political arguments to encourage common people in the Colonies to fight for egalitarian government It was published anonymously on January 10 1776 at the beginning of the American Revolution and became an immediate sensation
