Design and Coherence in the Prologue of First John Jeffrey E. Brickle, 2012-02-16 Unlike literature in the modern western world ancient documents were typically crafted for the ear rather than the eye Jeffrey E Brickle analyses the oral patterning and resulting soundscape reflected in the prologue of First John After discussing contemporary techniques of sound analysis and establishing the study's methodological approach Brickle examines the prologue's aural profile To do this he explores describes and graphically depicts the patterns of sound that emerge Brickle then uses approaches to Greek pronunciation and orality advocated in recent New Testament research to determine the impact on the prologue's soundscape He employs the principles for beautiful and effective composition elucidated by Dionysius of Halicarnassus in his treatise On literary composition The results and implications of this study enable Brickle to suggest further ways to apply research in orality performance and memory to ancient texts From publisher description The Epistles of John Samuel

M. Ngewa, 2019-10-21 While the message of the Bible remains the same different insights may add new light In this commentary attempt is made to interact with the text of the letters of John especially as we have it in the Greek New Testament The meaning of the word is not seen as the end but only as the basis upon which to relate the message to the present needs of the church The church is both guardian of truth and instrument of love These two themes are repeatedly found in the epistles of John and as they are discussed in this commentary the writer seeks to provoke the reader to reflect on how he she can keep on improving in them In our times with so many displaced persons hospitality is increasingly becoming an aspect of Christian love the church cannot run away from These are matters that this book calls attention to as they are raised by the biblical text itself I am grateful to others who have also given their time and energy in providing their insights on the same epistles May the Lord use all the efforts to build a strong church for our time and many years to come
