Industrialism and the American Worker, 1865-1920 Melvyn Dubofsky, 1996 The American South William J. Cooper, Jr., Thomas E. Terrill, 2009-01-16 In The American South William J. Cooper Jr and Thomas E. Terrill demonstrate their belief that it is impossible to divorce the history of the south from the history of the United States Each volume includes a substantial biographical essay completely updated for this edition which provides the reader with a guide to literature on the history of the South Coverage now includes the devastation of Hurricane Katrina in 2005 up to date analysis of the persistent racial divisions in the region and the South s unanticipated role in the 2008 presidential primaries Charlotte, NC William Graves (Ph. D.), Heather A. Smith, 2010 The rapid evolution of Charlotte North Carolina from regional backwater to globally ascendant city provides stark contrasts of then and now Once a regional manufacturing and textile center Charlotte stands today as one of the nation's premier banking and financial cores with interests reaching broadly into global markets. Once defined by its biracial and bicultural character, Charlotte is now an emerging immigrant gateway drawing newcomers from Latin America and across the globe. Once derided for its sleepy nine to five uptown, Charlotte's center city has been wholly transformed by residential gentrification, corporate headquarters construction, and amenity-based redevelopment. And yet despite its rapid transformation, Charlotte remains distinctively southern, globalizing but not yet global. This book brings together an interdisciplinary team of leading scholars and local experts to examine Charlotte from multiple angles. Their topics include the banking industry, gentrification, boosterism, architecture, city planning, transit, public schools, NASCAR, and the African American and Latino communities. United in the conviction that the experience of this Sunbelt city, center of the nation's fifth largest metropolitan area, offers new insight into today's most pressing urban and suburban issues, the contributors to Charlotte NC: The Global Evolution of a New South City ask what happens when the external forces of globalization combine with a city's internal dynamics to reshape the local structures, landscapes, and identities of a southern place.

America's Public Holidays, 1865-1920 Ellen M. Litwicky, 2013-08-06 From the revered Memorial Day to the forgotten Last Day, America's Public Holidays is a timely and thoughtful analysis of how the civic culture of America has been fashioned. By analyzing how holidays became a forum for expressing patriotism, how public tradition has been invented, and how the definition of America itself was changed, Ellen Litwicky tells the intriguing story of the elite effort to create new holidays and the variety of responses from ordinary Americans.

Minnie Fisher Cunningham Judith N. McArthur, Harold L. Smith, 2003-10-16 Minnie Fisher Cunningham was Texas's most important female political activist. After directing Texas's woman suffrage campaign, she helped found the National League of Women Voters and the Woman's National Democratic Club. This is the biography of the lifelong politician affectionately known as Minnie Fish.

Unredeemed Land Erin Stewart Mauldin, 2018-10-05 How did the Civil War and the emancipation of four million slaves reconfigure the natural landscape in the South and the farming economy dependent upon it? An innovative reconsideration of the Civil War's profound impact on southern history, Unredeemed Land traces the environmental constraints that shaped the rural South's transition to capitalism during the late nineteenth century. Dixie's King Cotton required extensive land use techniques across large swaths of acreage, fresh soil, and slave-based agriculture in order to remain profitable. But wartime destruction and the rise of the contract labor system closed off those possibilities and necessitated increasingly intensive methods of cultivation that worked against the environment. The resulting disconnect between farmers' use of the land and what the natural environment could support intensified the economic dislocation of freed people, poor farmers, and sharecroppers. Erin Stewart Mauldin demonstrates how the Civil War and emancipation accelerated ongoing ecological change in ways that hastened the postbellum collapse of the region's subsistence economy, encouraged the expansion of cotton production, and ultimately kept cotton farmers trapped in a cycle of debt and tenancy. The first environmental history to bridge the antebellum, Civil War, and Reconstruction periods Unredeemed Land powerfully examines the ways military conflict and emancipation left enduring ecological legacies The United States in Our Own Times, 1865-1920 Paul Leland Haworth,1920 The Arkansas Historical Quarterly ,1993 List of charter members v 1 p 8 Up from Handymen Earl F. Stover,1977 Annual Report of the American Historical Association American Historical Association,1923 Race, Class and Power in the Building of Richmond, 1870-1920 Steven J. Hoffman,2017-08-30 Using post Civil War Richmond Virginia as a case study Hoffman explores the role of race and class in the city building process from 1870 to 1920 Richmond s railroad connections enabled the city to participate in the commercial expansion that accompanied the rise of the New South A highly compact city of mixed residential industrial and commercial space at the end of the Civil War Richmond remained a classic example of what historians call a walking city through the end of the century As city streets were improved and public transportation became available the city s white merchants and emerging white middle class sought homes removed from the congested downtown The city s African American and white workers generally could not afford to take part in this residential migration As a result the mixture of race and class that had existed in the city since its inception began to disappear The city of Richmond exemplified characteristics of both Northern and Southern cities during the period from 1870 to 1920 Retreating Confederate soldiers had started fires that destroyed the city in 1865 but by 1870 the former capital of the Confederacy was on the road to recovery from war and reconstruction reestablishing itself as an important manufacturing and trade center The city s size diversity and economic position at the time not only allows for comparisons to both Northern and Southern cities but also permits an analysis of the role of groups other than the elite in city building process By taking a look at Richmond we are able to see a more complete picture of how American cities have come to be the way they are America, History and Life ,1996 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada The Florida Historical Quarterly ,1993 The United States Army Chaplaincy: Stover, E.
