Findout Constellations

What:
There is a lot of stars that make up constellations. Learning to find constellations is a fun way to learn about the night sky. The patterns of stars in the sky are called constellations. They are named after things like animals, people, and objects.

How:
You can find constellations by looking at the night sky. One way to do this is to use a star chart. A star chart is a map of the night sky that shows the positions of the stars in the sky. You can use a star chart to find the stars in a constellation.

Why:
The stars in a constellation are named after the things they represent. For example, the stars in the constellation Orion are named after the parts of a hunter's body.

Where:
The stars in a constellation are found in the same part of the night sky. For example, the stars in the constellation Orion are found in the same part of the night sky.
