Letters and Homilies for Hellenized Christians, Volume 2 Ben Witherington III, Ben Witherington, 2008-01-09 In the first of three volumes Witherington extends his innovative socio rhetorical analysis of New Testament books to the later Pauline and non Pauline corpora placing each text within its socioreligious milieu and illuminating the particular issues that confronted each congregation as well as the rhetorical strategies employed by each author in addressing those issues Throughout Witherington shows his thorough knowledge of recent literature on these texts and focuses his attention on the unique insights brought about through socio rhetorical analysis that either reinforce or correct those gleaned from other approaches Strikingly based on his rhetorical analysis that either reinforce or correct those gleaned from other approaches Strikingly based on his rhetorical analysis of the Pastorals he makes the case for Luke as Paul's amanuensis for these letters He also makes a strenuous argument against New Testament pseudepigrapha from back cover The History of the Home in Colonial America and in the United States United States. Reiff, 2010-11-01 Many homes across America have designs based on plans taken from pattern books or mail order catalogs In Houses from Books Daniel D Reiff traces the history of published plans and offers the first comprehensive survey of their influence on the structure and the style of American houses from 1738 to 1950 Houses from Books shows that architectural publications from Palladio's I Quattro Libri to Aladdin's Ready Cut Homes played a decisive role in every aspect of American domestic building Reiff discusses the people and the firms who produced the books as well as the ways in which builders and architects adapted the designs in communities throughout the country His book also offers a wide ranging analysis of the economic and social conditions shaping American building practices As architectural publication developed and grew more sophisticated it played an increasingly prominent part in the design and the construction of domestic buildings In villages and small towns which often did not have professional architects the publications became basic resources for carpenters and builders at all levels of expertise Through the use of published designs they were able to choose among a variety of plans styles and individual motifs and engage in a fruitful dialogue with past and present architects Houses from Books reconstructs this dialogue by examining the links between the published designs and the houses themselves Reiff's book will be indispensable to architectural historians architects preservationists and regional historians Realtors and homeowners will also find it of great interest A catalog at the end of the book can function as a guide for those attempting to locate a model and a date for a particular design Houses from Books contains a wealth of photographs many by the author that enhance its importance as a history and guide The Encyclopædia Britannica, 1898 Cook's Science Cook's Illustrated, Guy Crosby,
