T. Cross, 1885 The Greyhound Stud Book , 1899 When the Spirit Says Sing! Kerran L. Sanger, 1995-12-01 In the late 1950s and early 1960s such songs as We Shall Overcome Keep Your Eyes on the Prize and Do What the Spirit Says Do were sung at virtually every mass meeting demonstration and planning session of Civil Rights activists They were sung on the Freedom Rides during the marches and in jail cells of the South Movement activists have commented frequently and eloquently on the ways that singing and songs gave them strength and a sense of self This study offers a close analysis of the lyrics of the songs most central to the Civil Rights Movement with an eye to understanding the songs as self persuasion In the songs the activists defined themselves and their world and reinforced a plan of action for their participation in the Movement This analysis of the freedom songs is set in the context of Movement history and supported with commentary from activists and background information on Movement activities In addition this study offers readers insights into the moving and inspiring power of the freedom songs Sing with Me Michael Spice, 2014-01-07 In Sing With Me Carlisle Jacobson begins a teaching career in Washington D C learning as much as he is teaching Through personal experiences he learns most youths dont have the advantages he enjoyed in the horse country of northern Virginia only a day trip away from Washington but worlds away from its streets plagued by crime and nearly cut off from hopes as a child of privilege and wealth with slave owners of the antebellum south in his ancestry A hunting enthusiast since he was young Carlisle still is alarmed to learn firearms are used frequently in D C for hunting down other people including one of his student s and a co worker His most frequent teacher in learning he has a lot to learn is Lucia Sanspeur a black woman with ancestry that extends to Colonial era settlers on the Delaware River including a man who performed a heroic mission during the Revolutionary War despite the white militia leaders disdain for his skills and initiative Lucias voice captivates Carlisle from their first encounter and her ideas propel him toward understanding that he looks at the world and other people through a sense of white wealth and privilege When he experiences first hand the violence and crime that victimize many in the area daily Carlisles education moves into advanced studies but also comes to nearly a complete stop
