Guardian Circle:

The Violence of Care Sameena Mulla, 2014-08-29 Winner 2017 Margaret Mead Award presented by the American Anthropological Association and the Society for Applied Anthropology Honorable Mention 2015 Eileen Basker Memorial Prize presented by the Society for Medical Anthropology Analyzes the ways in which nurses work to collect and preserve evidence while addressing the needs of sexual assault victims as patients Every year in the US thousands of women and hundreds of men participate in sexual assault forensic examinations Drawing on four years of participatory research in a Baltimore emergency room Sameena Mulla reveals the realities of sexual assault response in the forensic age Taking an approach developed at the intersection of medical and legal anthropology she analyzes the ways in which nurses work to collect and preserve evidence while addressing the needs of sexual assault victims as patients Mulla argues that blending the work of care and forensic investigation into a single intervention shapes how victims of violence understand their own suffering recovery and access to justice in short what it means to be a victim As nurses race the clock to preserve biological evidence institutional practices technologies and even state requirements for documentation undermine the way in which they are able to offer psychological and physical care Yet most of the evidence they collect never reaches the courtroom and does little to increase the number of guilty verdicts Mulla illustrates the violence of care with painstaking detail illuminating why victims continue to experience what many call secondary rape during forensic intervention even as forensic nursing is increasingly professionalized Revictimization can occur even at the hands of conscientious nurses simply because they are governed by institutional requirements that shape their practices The Violence of Care challenges the uncritical adoption of forensic practice in sexual assault intervention and post rape care showing how forensic intervention profoundly impacts the experiences of violence justice healing and recovery for victims of rape and sexual assault

The World's Constitution

Adam K. Webb, 2025-01-02 Global governance is tightening and foreshadows that world state formation will become a live political issue in this century Some observers treat it as inevitable amid the urgency of global issues They foresee a technocratic scaling up of the model of state authority that has prevailed at the national level for over two hundred years Many critics and members of the public around the world look askance at that prospect They rightly fear a moral vacuum of authority disconnected from the world's traditions and a concentration of power that would be damaging to liberty or even dystopian in its upshot Still they often merely aim to stand athwart the scaling up of political institutions rather than actively trying to shape an alternative that can seize the global horizon The World's Constitution Spheres of Liberty in the Future Global Order offers a radically different vision of future world order that could work in a global space while shifting the balance of power from state back to society It draws on older resources in political thought both Western and non Western to upend mainstream notions of statehood and sovereignty that have been taken for granted for too long in the modern era It offers an original sphere pluralist framework that can reconcile liberty tradition and cosmopolitanism As a book rooted in the past but mindful of future constitutional and policy challenges it bridges ideas and real world implications with insights that cut across a wide range of topics from migration and social welfare to personal law systems and channels of representation It opens an exciting debate about global constitutional futures that is likely to become more salient over the next couple of generations The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Multimedia Communications, Services and Security Andrzej Dziech,Wim Mees,Andrzej Czyżewski,2020-09-24 This volume constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 10th International Conference on Multimedia Communications Services and Security MCSS 2020 held in Krak w Poland in October 2020 The 24 full papers and 2 short papers included in the volume were selected from 54 submissions The papers cover ongoing research activities in the following topics multimedia services intelligent monitoring audio visual systems biometric applications experiments and deployments The New Hyperion Earl Shinn,1875 The Spiritual Diary Emanuel Swedenborg,1883 At Dawn Evan Morgan,1924 Lippincott's Monthly Magazine ,1875 Gazetteer of the Bombay Presidency: Poona (2 pts.) ,1885 *California.
