balanced relationship the fields of education and second language testing and assessment

Revisiting the Assessment of Second Language Abilities: From Theory to Practice Sahbi Hidri, 2018-01-12 This book presents an overview of revisiting the assessment of language abilities It also showcases how the measurement of such constructs can result in negative or positive washback and how outcomes might be conducive to repercussions that decide on the future of many stakeholders The 23 chapters were selected among tens of chapters received from different contexts that addressed the issue of revisiting the assessment of language abilities such as Tunisia Ukraine Algeria Russia KSA Sudan Egypt Canada Kurdistan UK USA Iran Turkey etc These contexts have highlighted the necessity to revisit the different constructs which should be assessed with a clear and straightforward foundation on students learning objectives and their actual language ability To do so most of the chapters present hands on use of relevant statistical tests that might serve in revisiting the construct definition both theoretically and operationally Perhaps the sole and intricate question that the authors of these contributions ask is what it means to revisit the assessment of the construct of individualized language ability and how In addition the book accentuates the momentousness and significance of reflecting on test fairness and validation as the mainspring and backbone for democratization of assessment This book appeals to a broad readership such as English Language Teaching ELT practitioners language teachers students testing organizations policy makers test designers writers of test specifications testing experts researchers program evaluators especially in the Middle East and North Africa MENA as well as other international contexts

Changing Language Assessment Sahbi Hidri, 2020-04-08 This edited book brings together fifteen original empirical studies from a variety of international contexts to provide a detailed exploration of language assessment testing and evaluation Language assessment has a key role in the development and implementation of language and educational policies at the national level and this book examines some of the impacts both positive and negative of different skills testing and examination approaches on learning outcomes and individual students language learning This book will be of interest to scholars working in applied linguistics and language education teacher training testing and evaluation as well as stakeholders such as practitioners educators educational agencies and test developers

Teacher Involvement in High-Stakes Language Testing Daniel Xerri, Patricia Vella Briffa, 2018-04-27 This book advocates that teachers should play an active role in high stakes language testing and that more weight should be given to teacher judgement This is likely to increase the formative potential of high stakes tests and provide teachers with a sense of ownership The implication is that the knowledge and skills they develop by being involved in these tests will feed into their own classroom practices The book also considers the arguments against teacher involvement e g the contention that teacher involvement might entrench the practice of teaching to the test or that teachers should not be actively involved in high stakes language testing because their judgement is insufficiently reliable Using contributions from a wide range of international educational contexts the book proposes that a lack of reliability in teacher judgement is best addressed by means of training and not by barring educators from participating in high stakes language testing It also argues that their involvement in testing helps teachers to bolster confidence in their own judgement and develop their assessment literacy Moreover teacher involvement empowers them to play a role in reforming high stakes language testing so that it is more equitable and more likely to enhance classroom practices High stakes language tests that adopt such an inclusive approach facilitate more effective learning on the part of teachers which ultimately benefits all their students
